(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, November 23, 1868.

Secretary McCulloch has decided to remove Mr. Cake, Collector of Customs at Philadelphia, for disobedience of orders.

The Secretary of the Treasury has completed his estimate for expenses during the year ending June, 1870. They are fifty millions less than the estimates for the present fiscal year, and will be still further reduced if the Indian war should be concluded in a short time. The expenses of the Navy Department will be about twenty millions next year, against thirty-nine millions this year. Mr. McCulloch thinks a very considerable portion of the public debt can be cancelled during the coming year.

Secretary Seward thinks it will be necessary for the President to issue a proclamation forbidding the fitting out of fillibustering expeditions to capture Cuba in our large cities.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax and lady left for the North to-day.

The whiskey ring have determined to urge Congress to increase the tax to two dollars a gallon.

It is believed that no attempt will be made to bring Jeff. Davis to trial.

A letter from Syria October 12th states that our Consul General will doubtless be successful in his effort to obtain the release of two Americans who are held as prisoners of war at Damascus on suspicion of being concerned in the plot to overthrow the Turkish government. They were engaged with some Englishmen in the survey of a new railroad route, and their possession of arms was taken as proof of a treasonable purpose.

The Board of Directors of the Gettysburg Cemetery will meet in Washington on December 9th.

The friends of women's rights are about to canvass the city for signatures to a petition to Congress for female suffrage in the District of Columbia.

The executive and municipal departments will be closed on Thanksgiving day.

Judge Fullerton is expected here with additional evidence in the revenue fraud case and the President will give him a hearing on Wednesday.

The Municipal authorities of Wilmington, N. C., have applied to the Secretary of the Treasury for the lease of the Marine Hospital there for hospital purposes.

Samuel W. Douglass was, to-day, appointed Gauger of the Fourteenth District of Ohio.

Five districts requiring the appointment of Internal Revenue Supervisors yet remain unprovided for, viz: First New York, Second Southern Ohio, Third Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, Fourth Louisiana, and Fifth Nebraska.

The Soldiers and Sailor's Union of the city, at a meeting to-night, appointed a Committee to aid the organizations of soldiers and sailors that intend participating in the inauguaral ceremonies of General Grant as President, in securing quarters and accommodations.

HAYTI.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

Defeat of Solnave's Troops Confirmed—British Residents to be Protected—A New Government—President Solnave Returns to Port au Prince—Great Suffering Among the People—General Saget Attacks the Solnaveists.

NEW YORK, November 21—Later advices from Hayti confirm the report that Solnave had been defeated at Jeremie, and a vessel with large guns had arrived at St. Marie for the Cacos Cape. The Haytians are being vigorously attacked by the insurgents.

The commander of the British war vessel Niobe, had orders to prevent the bombardment of any town where British residents were engaged in trade.

A regular government had been established under the Presidency of Nissage Saget, at St. Marie in the north, and General Dominique held his own as President in the south.

PORT AU PRINCE, Nov. 18, via Havana, Nov. 21.—President Solnave returned to this port yesterday from Cape Haytian with his two men-of-war, the Alexandre Petern and Solnave. He put in on the way at Goniaves. Both places are provisionless, and the people thereabouts are suffering much.

General Nissage Saget is concentrating numerous forces around Goniaves and expects soon to attack the Solnavists there.

NEW ORLEANS.

Re-appearance of the "Tribune," Organ of the Colored Men—Five Thieves Arrested.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW ORLEANS, November 23.—The New Orleans Tribune, the organ of the colored Republicans in Louisiana, owned, edited and published by colored men, reappeared yesterday after a suspension of six months.

Five Chicago and St. Louis thieves, part of the gang lately depredating on the New Orleans and Jackson railroad, were arrested here on Saturday night.

Bank Panic Abating.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

ST. JOHN, N. B., November 23.—The financial panic has somewhat abated, and public confidence is slightly improved. A telegram from the President, of the St. Stephens, holds out encouragement for the hope that the bank may soon resume business, and the value of its paper has increased from ten to fifteen per cent. The notes of the Commercial Bank are selling at thirty per cent. discount. Business generally is almost suspended.

Extensive Land Slide.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

PORTLAND, Me., November 23.—A dispatch from Westbrooke states that a land slide took place about five o'clock yesterday morning, just below the Cumberland paper mills, which comprised about forty acres in area, and completely filled the channel of the Presumscott river, so that the water is backed up within three feet of the top of the dam, and the lower story of the mill is submerged,

NEW YORK CITY.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, November 23, 1868.

WALL STREET THE SINK OF INIQUITY, THE HOT-BED OF CORRUPTION, AND MAGNET OF RUIN.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher preached a sermon on the evils of stock gambling. After vividly alluding to the prevailing desire of men to grasp riches by all means fair or foul, the reverend gentleman forcibly dilated upon the present system of gambling on Wall street, passing severe strictures on the speculators, and contending that if the course of rash speculation was not put down the most terrible consequences would ensue. He drew a touching picture of the thousands of brave men, who, tempted by expectation of gold, and overswollen with hope, now wandered about helpless beggars through the great pandemonium of swindling and ruin. Wall street was the very sink of iniquity, the hot-bed of corruption and the magnet of ruin. He enumerated the many evil consequences of avarice, among others, suicide, madness, and the jail. Wealth was not necessarily injurious, but men should not be over hasty in accumulating it. Wealth was a divine power, but very dangerous, and needed all the more to be controlled. The reverend gentleman concluded with an eloquent appeal to avoid stock gambling or idle speculation, for their consequences were as sure as they were disastrous.

LATEST PHASE OF THE ERIE RAILROAD WAR.

The Tribune gives to-day a statement, in addition to the petition of August Belmont, before Judge Sutherland, of which the following is the material portion: That by closing the books of the Company sixty days before the election, instead of thirty days, as usual, and by excluding any stockholders from voting by proxy, and by other fraudulent devices, said Gould, Fiske & Lane succeeded at the regular annual election, on October 13th, 1868, in continuing in and perfecting their control of the Company, and are now wasting and misappropriating its funds, exposing the Company to a forfeit of its charter. Said Gould, Fiske & Lane, prior to the election in 1868, issued, unlawfully, three million dollars of additional stock, and since then have issued twenty-three million dollars more. The common stock of the company now exceeds sixty million dollars, and its value has fallen from eighty dollars per share, down to thirty-five dollats per share. Said increase of stock has all been fraudulently issued, and the proceeds thereof are now controlled by Gould and Fiske, amounting to about sixteen millions of dollars, all of which, instead of being deposited to the credit of the company, or standing in its name, is in the individual names and possession of said Fiske and Gould. That said Gould and Fiske are using all the resources of said company in dangerous and fraudulent speculations in stocks, and in fraudulently buying on behalf of the said company various properties, and are now contracting for leases and other purchases, on all of which said Gould Fiske & Lane have received private bonuses, in fraud of the Company, amounting to $1,500,000, to their own use. That since the election of said Gould, Fiske & Lane, in October, 1867, the debts of said Company have increased from $63,911,210 to $103,236,910, in addition to the twenty million dollars of stock issued for the October election of 1868, and exclusive of the acceptances issued for the Boston, Hartford and Erie stock, and various leases and other matters. That the receipts of the Company during the past year exceed $38,000,000. Wherefore the plaintiffs pray that the Directors be removed, and a receiver appointed; that defendants be restrained from increasing the stock, or from removing the books, papers and funds, or impeding their examination, or allowing them to remain beyond the jurisdiction of the Court. The complaint is verified by August Belmont, and followed by affidavits corroborating its statements of law and fact, by Augustus C. Brown, Daniel Drew, Frank Work and C. S. Sloan. On these Justice Sutherland grants the injunction and orders to show cause prayed for above described.

The case of McIntosh vs. the Erie Company came up to-day before Judge Sutherland, and after considerable argument a decision was given by the Judge, vacating the orders issued by Judge Barnard, which appointed Jay Gould, as Receiver, and permitted him to sell two hundred thousand shares of stock, etc.

The Belmont case was then called up on an order to show cause why a Receiver should not be appointed. Arguments thereon proceeded, in which Judge Pierrepont, Messrs. Burrill and Rapello participated, granted an order in the suit of Belmont against the Erie Railroad Company, appointing Judge Davies as Receiver. Marshal Roberts and J. F. D'Lauia went security for Judge Davies in the sum of one million dollars. It is rumored that Messrs. Fisk and Gould have betaken themselves to Jersey City.

JUDGE BARNARD AFTER THE NEWPAPERS.

Judge Barnard in a charge to the grand jury in the Court of Oyer and Terminer today, called attention to the alleged frauds and corruptions of the Judiciary here, and to the action of certain newspapers in New York, in perpetrating daily and hourly libels. In to-day's Tribune and Times; in the New Jersey papers, and elsewhere, he said, are charges of the most atrocious character against corruption in interfering with the duties of electors, and charging him, Barnard, with being in a combination in Wall street. He had never bought, sold or owned a share of stocks in his life; has not, separate from his wife, a single dollar's worth of property, and was to-day dependent upon his salary of Judge, and the charity of his wife. He, therefore, desired and craved the jury to examine into the matter, and say whether a combination of thieves, scoundrels and rascals who have infested Wall street and Broad street for years, and are now quarreling among themselves, shall be permitted to turn around and endeavor to hide their own tracks by abuse and villifications of the Judges.

THE RUMORED HEAVY FAILURE.

The rumors of heavy failures in Wall street resolve themselves into the fact that Mr. Marsh, of the late firm of Temple & Marsh, has absconded after purchasing five-twenty bonds from Henry Hiser & Sons, giving in payment a check for $16,500 signed in the firm name. On presenting it for discount on Friday the Messrs. Hiser learned that the firm had succumbed to the pressure in Erie, and the check was valueless; and it is alleged that several other brokers had rejected the check previously.

DECLINATION OF CANDIDATES.

Mr. John Kelly, who was nominated as a candidate for Mayor by the Democratic City Union party, and R. T. Lawrence, their candidate for Corporation Counsel, have both declined. The Executive Committee of that party have decided to tender the Mayoralty to Judge Daly.

ADDRESS OF THE CIGAR MANUFACTURERS.

The Cigar Manufacturers' Association has issued an address to the trade throughout the United States and Canada, stating the facts relative to their issue with the Cigar Makers' Union, and appealing to the manufacturers not to increase their workmen at present, but join in organizing an opposition to any unjust demand of the Cigar Makers' Union now or hereafter.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The case of Baker, the defaulting teller of the Tradesmen's bank, the United States being prosecutor, was commenced to-day in the U. S. Court before Judge Blatchford.

The Bourbon whisky case, and several others of a similar nature, were, at the instance of District Attorney Courtney, set down for December 7th. Separate trials were asked for in two cases, and the motions will be argued in a few days.

At a meeting of the managers of the Express Companies to-day, there was no harmony of action, and the results were unsatisfactory to all parties interested.

One of the laborers on the North Side Railroad, of Long Island, has absconded with six thousand dollars, intended for the payment of the hands, causing much excitement among them. They have been since paid.

Wm. Harrison, the celebrated tenor, died in England on the 11th instant.

TAMMANY NOMINATIONS.

NEW YORK, November 23.—At the Tammany Nominating Convention for city offices, held this evening, Judge Charles P. Daly presided. Delegations were present from the German General Democratic Convention. The following gentlemen were nominated unanimously: Mayor—A. Oakey Hall, present District Attorney; Corporation Council—Richard O'Gorman. Both gentlemen made speeches of acceptance.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

The Republican nominating convention met at the headquarters, Broadway, on 23d street, and nominated Col. Fredk. A. Conkling for mayor and Chas. P. Shaw for Corporation Counsel.

PHILADELPHIA.

A Wealthy Old Lady Brutally Murdered—Her Son-in-Law and Daughter-in-Law Charged With the Horrible Crime—They are Arrested—Motive for the Horrible Deed—Young Girl Burned to Death—Fenian Convention.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

PHILADELPHIA, November 23.—The city was shocked last night by the discovery of a horrible murder at Tenth and Pine streets. About ten o'clock the police entered the residence of Mrs. Dorothy Hill, a wealthy old lady, and found blood stains upon the furniture and window lintels. Proceeding to the yard, they discovered the body of Mrs. Hill, horribly mutilated, her brains having been beaten out with an iron poker, evidently while lying asleep on a sofa. It was evident that the murderer had thrown the body into the commission of the crime. The poker was found soon after, covered with the blood, brains and hai of the unfortunate lady. There were no signs of robbery and the detectives concluded that the murderer was a near relative or friend. Accordingly, George H. Twitchell, a son-in-law of the deceased, was taken into custody and examined at once. Blood stains were found upon his clothing, and before the Coroner's jury, to-day, other circumslances came to light which seem to fix the guilt upon Twitchell. It is supposed that he imagined that at the death of Mrs. Hill her immense property would come into his possession, as he is the nearest of kin and was a particular favorite of the deceased.

There is much excitement here in relation to the murder of Mrs. Hill. Mrs. Twitchell is in custody on suspicion of participating in the murder. The deceased was wealthy, having inherited it from her last husband. Mrs. Twitchell is a daughter, by her former husband. Negotiations had been going on for the purchase of a house on the corner of Tenth and Pine streets. It is said the matter had been entrusted to Mr. Twitchell, and he had the deed made out in the name of his wife instead of Mrs. Hill. There had been some difficulty about the matter, and Mrs. Hill had been advised to commence a prosecution against Twitchell for misappropriation of her funds. It is supposed the object of the deed was to possess himself of the property, and get out of the way the evidence as to how he became in possession of it. Deceased had only a life interest in the property left by her last husband.

On Saturday evening while Margaret Ludwig, aged sixteent was sitting asleep near a furnace, her clothes took fire and before she could be rescued her body was burned to a crisp.

PHILADELPHIA, November 23.—A Fenian Convention meets here to-morrow. It will probably be the largest meeting of representative Irishmen ever held. Great preparations are being made for a parade on Thanksgiving day.

OHIO.

Message of Governor Hays.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

COLUMBUS, OHIO, November 23.—The Governor's message was read before the General Assembly to-day. He says, financial affairs are in a satisfactory condition. The report of the Commissioners for revising the laws relating to the financial system was laid before you at the last session. Their report was accompanied by eight separate bills consolidating the present laws. These bills have already been considered in both branches. I recommend an early consideration, and adoption with such amendments as your judgment and the public interests requires.

The detruction of the lunatic asylum by fire will require investigation and prompt action in rebuilding the asylum. A fire proof building is suggested. Prudence and humanity also suggests the propriety of examining other institutions of the State in order to present a similar disaster.

Abuse of the elective franchise requires the attention of the General Assembly at this session. I submit the propriety of amendments to the election laws for the representation of minorities in boards of judges and clerks of elections, and the registration of lawful voters in each township, ward and precinct prior to the election.

The interests of common schools will be promoted by an early adoption of the county superintendency as provided in the bill now pending in one branch of the Assembly. I earnestly recommend the consideration and passage of the bill.

Last summer a proclamation was issued to prevent the spreading of the cattle disease. I respectfully recommend that authority be given to appoint five Commissioners to attend the meeting of Commissioners of other States to be held at Springfield, Illinois, on the 1st of December next, and report the results in time for the action of the present Assembly.

I submit the importance of providing for a thorough geological survey of the State.

Funeral of Rossini—Settlement of the Schleswig Urged—New Spanish Loan—Mr. Burlingame—Another Banquet to Minister Johnson—Protest of Minister Morris—Liberal Majority at Least One Hundred and Fifty—Foreshadowing of the Liberal Cause.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

FRANCE.

PARIS, November 22.—After the celebration of requiem mass and last offices of dead at the Madeline yesterday, the remains of Rosini were taken to the cemetery of Pere La Chaise. The funeral was rather of a private and domestic character. The funeral was not large nor was the display unusual, but immense throngs lined the streets through which the cortege passed, who testified their respect for the great composer by a profound and mournful silence.

LONDON, November 22—Advices from Paris state that there is a growing discontent in France, consequent on the press seizeures. Prosecutions are urged by Government with unsparing energy.

PARIS, November 22.—The Prince of Wales is at Campeigne.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, November 22—Evening.—The election returns now in show that the Liberals have at least one hundred and fifty majority in a full House. It is estimated they will have one hundred and twenty majority on the amendment which will be proposed to the Parliamentary address in reply to the Queen's speech. Some people are disposed to think such strength of numbers will be dangerous to the Liberals, fearing it will tend to produce discord in the party. This apprehension is perhaps imaginary, as nearly all the Liberals who have been elected have pledged themselves to their constituents to sustain Mr. Gladstone, and the fate of the Adullamites, who have all come to grief, is a warning to bolters. Two fortunate results are considered to have been secured, viz: the displacement of the Conservatives and the acquisition of power sufficient to exert a decisive pressure on the House of Lords for pushing through the measures for the disestablishment of the Irish Church.

The aristocratic section of Whig party is charged with intriguing to have Earl Granville invited by the Queen to form a new Ministry, and the Radicals are indignant at the underhanded course. It is anticipated that the new House of Commons will be on the whole remarkably practical and business-like in character. The exclusion of Mr. Osborne, Mr. Roebuck and other eccentric individuals, is a matter of general congratulation. Nor is the loss of the Conservative lawyers, including the Attorney General and Solicitor General, much lamented. Regret is felt that none of the workingmen's candidates who failed for want of money and organization, will be in the House to represent that new element in the Government. The election in the counties have not all been finished yet, but they will be completed before the end of this week.

A banquet was given to Hon. Reverdy Johnson by the authorities of Brighton on Saturday. George Peabody and George W. Childs, of the Philadelphia Ledger, were also guests of the corporation and many distinguished Englishmen and local celebreties were present. Mr. Johnson's remarks were similar to those of former occasions. The Mayor of Brighton also made a speech in which he eloquently extolled peace, the American Minister and Mr. Peabody.

LONDON, November 22—Evening.—Mr. Burlingame and his mission has gained ground daily. His relations with Lord Stanley are intimate and satisfactory.

SPAIN.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—Intelligence from Spain is to the effect that Gen. Prim is charged with delaying the elections and reorganizing the army with the design of a coup de etat and the establishment of an empire. It is also said that hand bills are freely circulated urging his elevation to the throne, and that they eminate from his immediate friends.

PRUSSIA.

LONDON, November 22.—A dispatch from Berlin states that there is much surprise at the omission to consult the King on the subject of his arbitration of the Alabama claims.

Count Bismarck has recovered from his illness, and resumes his post this week.

GERMANY.

PESTH, November 22.—In the preface of the official red book which has just made its appearance here, the maintainance of friendship with Prussia and all Northern and Southern States of Germany is advocated, and the settlement of the Schleswig difficulty is urged.

HUNGARY.

VIENNA, November 22.—The Hungarian official Red Book denounces the dislovalty prevalent in the Danubian principalities to the Sultans government, and says they have forfeited their claim to the protection of the Great Powers.

TURKEY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, November 22.—Hon. E. Joy Morris, American Minister, has presented to Mr. Porte an energetic protest against the imprisonment of the two American citizens at Damascus.

Incendiary Fire.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

JANESVILLE, WIS., November 23.—A fire this morning destroyed five frame buildings on the south of Main street, owned by Mitchell, Benneboker & Conners. Loss $6,000; insurance small. The aggregate losses of the occupants, $6,600; insurance, $4,000. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

Chief Justice Chase in Richmond.

RICHMOND, November 23.—Chief Justice Chase arrived here this evening and will be on the bench to-morrow.

Gen. Butler Ill.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

LOWELL, November 23.—Gen. Butler is dangerously ill.

MEXICO.

Gen. Mejia, Minister of War, Will Resign—Candidates for the Vacancy—Unfounded Rumor—Demand of Gen. Canto Refused—Heavy Inundations—Town Destroyed by Fire—Escobedo Defeated and His Troops Join the Rebels.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

HAVANA, November 23.—An arrival from Vera Cruz brings the following intelligence:

The resignation of Gen. Mejia, Minister of War, about to be tried for the unauthorized expenditures of public monies, is considered certain. Generals Dias, Alatorre and Perriozabal are spoken of as prominent candidates for the office.

The report that an insurrection had been organized in Sierra Puebla, by Mendez and Negrete, proves unfounded.

Heavy inundations in many portions of the country, causing great loss of property, are reported.

The demand of Gen. Canto to be tried by a military court, for the alleged assassination of Gen. Patoni, has been refused.

A fire yesterday at Batabano destroyed a large portion of the town.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—The Times copies from the Brownsville Ranchero extra, dated the 12th inst., letters from Monterey, received the previous night. They state that Escobedo, having gone from Tampico to Victoria for the purpose of commencing the Tamaulapis campaign jointly with the troops from Matamoras, was surprised by the entire force of Vargos at the Hacienda de Alanulos. Escobedo was defeated, barely escaping with a few of his staff to Monterey. Escobedo's forces fought badly, and before the fight was over hurrahed for Vargos and Canales, and finally declared in favor of rebels. Escabedo attempted to collect his force at Monterey but failed. His soldiers refusing to march without being paid, and afterwards openly refused to fight against their Tamaulapis brethren. Escobedo seeing this complicated state of affairs sent in his resignation, declaring himself incapable of putting down the revolution. The forces at Victoria, under Lopez and Montensios, becoming demoralized disbanded themselves, a large portion joining Vargos. It is believed by this time Tampico has pronounced as well as other towns in the State, and soon the entire State will be in the hands of Vargos.

Heavy Reward Offered.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WORCESTER, MASS., November 23.—A reward of five thousand dollars has been offered for the arrest of three men who assaulted and robbed Aaron Bliss in his house at Manson, on Friday morning. Yesterday a man named Stulzen was arrested on suspicion, and identified by Bliss as the man who struck him.

A MARRIED man in Constantinople had a difficulty with five of his wives, which he settled by tying them up in sacks and throwing them into the Bosphorus. His thirty-eight other wives have given him no trouble since that bit of house cleaning came off.

THE COURTS.

U. S. District Court.

In the bankruptcy branch of the Court, at chambers, a petition was filed by T. J. Fisher & Co., Scranton, Jefferson county, asking that Patrick Gallaghan, of the same place, be declared bankrupt. The petitioning creditors allege that the respondent is indebted to them in the sum of $800.78. That being insolvent he has committed acts of bankruptcy by confessing judgment to M. J. Phelbius, for the sum of $1,180, to M. M. Kearney for $1,175, and to J. M. Jarrett for $190, with the intention of giving the parties named preference over other creditors, contrary to the provisions of the bankrupt act.

A voluntary petition for adjudication in bankruptcy was filed by John H. Moore, of Blair county.

District Court—Judges Hampton and Kirkpatrick.

Court met at ten o'clock yesterday morning, Judges Hampton and Kirpatrick on the bench. The following business was transacted:

In the case of D. C. Ripley & Co., vs. Scultz & Danner, after a jury had been empannelled the defendants confessed judgment in favor of the plaintiffs in the sum of $1,048,37.

—The next case taken up was that of Wm. A. McClurg vs. The Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company. This was an action to recover damages for injuries sustained by plaintiff, while a passenger on a train on the defendants' road, caused, as was alleged, by carelessness of the company's agent.

In the cases of Acheron vs. Waldier and Wolf vs. Marine Oil Company, motions for new trial and reasons filed.

In the case of Mellon Bros. vs. Sturgeon & Anderson, on motion of plaintiff's attorney, William Blakely, Esq., was appointed auditor, to make distribution of the fund in Court, and ordered to make report of the same.

The case of Herrron vs. Patterson, Nechous & Pharo was then taken up and was on trial when Court adjourned.

TRIAL LIST.

Following is the trial list for to-day:

40. Sorg vs. First German Ev. St. Paul's congregation of East Birmingham.
43. McKown vs. Negley.
44. Archaubault vs. Smith.
45. Ardesco Oil Company vs. Richardson & Tack.
48. Williams & Co. vs. King & Co.
49. Cochran vs. Auld.
50. McElroy, Dickson & Co. vs. Knap.
51. Brown vs. Hagle.

Common Pleas—Judge Stowe.

Court met at the usual hour yesterday morning, Judge Stowe on the bench.

The first case disposed of was that of Wm. Duvall vs. Richard L. Miller. The defendant was a clergyman, and had married a son of plaintiff, who was alleged to have been under age. The action was brought to recover the penalty fixed by the act of Assembly in such cases. The allegations of the plaintiff were to the effect that his son was born September 4th, 1849, and that he had been married some time during the month of September, 1867. In corroboration of these allegations the family, was offered in evidence, the father having testified positively that he had entered the record of his son's birth on the day following, that is on the 5th day of September, 1849. The title page of the Bible had been torn out, but Mr. J. W. F. White, counsel for the defendant, discovered that on the title page of the New Testament it appeared by the imprint that the book was not published until the year 1853—four years after the record was alleged to have been entered. The jury found a verdict for the defendant.

The next case taken up was that of Mendeline Ott, for use of A. Hoffman vs. the surviving partners of the Union Coal Company. This was an action on a promissory note. The jury found for plaintiff in the sum of $343, the amount of the note, with interest.

The case of C. G. Hunter vs. C. Gallisath was next taken up. This was an action on a book account. The jury found for plaintiff in the sum of $25. The amount of the claim was $84.74.

B H. Hibler vs. the Pittsburgh and McKeesport Car Company was the next case taken up. This was an action to recover the amount of salary alleged to be due to plaintiff. He was employed at a salary of $2,500 per year, but was discharged before the expiration of that time. The action is, therefore, brought to recover the balance due.

In the case of Wolsencraft vs. Goldstein, being an action for malicious prosecution, reported last week, a motion for a new trial was made by Josiah Cohen, Esq., counsel for defendent.

The following is the trial list for to-day:

219. Hassinger vs. Hardy Executor.
210. Foley vs. Haberman & Co.
238. Good vs. Hirsh & Bro.
241. Wier vs. McAlpin.
243. Spithers vs. Hope.
244. Donnelly vs. Wells et ux.
245. Robinson vs. P. A. & M. P. R. R. Co.
246. Anks vs. McMannus.
248. Paisley vs. Vogt & McPherson.
249. Milller vs. Spring Garden Water Co.

Bishop Stevens.

We regret to learn that the injuries received by Bishop Stevens, at Bethlehem, on last Saturday night, while not actually alarming, are more serious than reported. The Bishop walked over a perpendicular bank, in the dark, falling a distance of seven feet. His right arm is broken so near the shoulder as to make it impossible to set it in the regular manner, and the surgeons have been compelled to depend upon bandaging, hoping that the use of his arm may be restored by the ligamentous adhesions. There is also a very serious injury to the knee-joint, the full extent of which has not yet been determined. In the Bishop's enfeebled condition of health, the reaction of the shock to his system has been slow, and his recovery will be necessarialy quite tedious. He is at the house of the Rev. Mr. Potter, the son of the late Bishop Potter, and is, of course, receiving every possible attention, and the advantage of the best medical skill.

GEN. POWELL CLAYTON, Governor o Arkansas, was originally a Pennsylvanian, then a United States soldier, and is now a citizen and Chief Magistrate of Arkansas. His admidistration does credit not only to that State, but to the Commonwealth which gave him birth and the army whose colors he bore.

AT SEVERAL voting places in Louisiana, the whites attended with their guns, from whence they sallied out in bands, surrounded the colored men and actually drove them to the polls, and at the muzzle of their firearms compelled them to vote the Democratic ticket.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

LITTLE SHOE IN THE CORNER.

BY JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL.

Yes, Faith is a goodly anchor.
When skies are sweet as a psalm,
At the bows it holds so stalwart
In bluff broad-shouldered calm.

And when over breakers to leeward
The tattered surges are hurled,
It may keep our head to the tempest,
With its grip on the base of the world.

But, after the shipwreck, tell me,
What help in its iron thews,
Still true to the broken hawser,
Deep down among sea weed and ooze?

In the breaking gulfs of sorrow,
When the helpless feet stretch out,
And find in the deeps of darkness,
No footing so solid as doubt.

Then better one star of memory,
One broken plank of the past,
That our human heart may cling to
Though hopeless of shore at last.

To the spirit its splendid conjectures,
To the flesh its sweet despair,
Its tears o'er the thin worn locket
With its beauty of deathless hair!

Immortal! I feel it and know it;
Who doubts it of such as she?
But that is the pang's very secret—
Immortal away from me!

There is a narrow ridge in the graveyard
Would scarce stay a child in his race;
But to me and my thoughts it is wider
Than the star sown vague of space.

Your logic, my friend, is perfect,
Your morals most drearily true.
But the earth that stops my darling's ears
Makes mine insensate too.

Console, if you will; I can bear it;
'Tis a well-meant alms of breath:
But not all the preaching since Adam
Has made Death other than Death.

Communion in spirit! Forgive me
But I who am earthly and weak,
Would give all my incomes from dreamland
For her rose-leaf palm on my cheek!

That little shoe in the corner
So worn and wrinkled and brown—
Its motionless hollow confutes you,
And argues your wisdom down.

—Lippincott's dove colored marble warehouse, on Market street, Philadelphia, is one of the finest buildings in the Quaker City, as it should be indeed to contain such an establishment as this great book concern.

—An Episcopalian journal has a good story of a clergyman of that church who concluded that he would go into the martyr sensation business and consequently wrote to a Presbyterian divine, requesting an exchange of pulpits, but the Calvinist refused to assist in breaking the laws of his church and so the poor man has to look out for some one else to assist him in playing the role he longs for.

—The Chicago Post has been hunting up statistics on the washing subject, in order to induce American families to have their washing, and their baking too, done out of the house. It has gone over the books of a New York hotel and discovers that in one month 70,209 pieces were washed, and the total expenses of the month, including gas, coal, wages, etc., was $437, or about seven cents per dozen, which is much cheaper than they can be done at home. The evident object of the writer is to induce families to establish co-operative laundries and thus save money and all the annoyance of washing day.

News at Washington.

The forthcoming report of the Post Master General will show that in all the Southern States, Kentucky and Tennessee excepted, the receipts from postage do not equal the expenses of the transportation of the mails.

Lucifer matches yielded the Government last year, through the Revenue Department, a million and a half of dollars. The trifling tax on each box is, perhaps, one of the best and most successful of all our imposts. Nobody feels it enough to complain, and it is levied equally on all.

Lieutenant General Sherman, in his usual blunt style, tells in his report, published last week, the story of the Plains for the past year. He frankly admits the Indian question to be one whose satisfactory solution is beyond his power, but he inclines, in common with the recent Peace Commission, to the adoption of the reservation policy, to be carried into execution under the control and direction of the War Bureau.

Secretary McCulloch ordered the dismissal of twelve persons in the employ of the Collector of Philadelphia, mentioning their names; whereupon Collector Casee replied that whatever a "special agent" might suggest in the way of retrenchment might be well enough, but that he had no right to select the men to be dismissed. The Collector thereupon made his own choice, and forwarded to the Secretary a list of the names of the victims, remarking that he had dispensed with the service of the least efficient men of his force, while the Secretary's list required the decapitation of his best men. Mr. Casee took his action under advice of Attorney General Brewster. A like conflict of authority occurred under President Van Buren's administration, and the decision was in favor of the Collector.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue is well pleased with the working of the new Revenue law, under which the receipts fully answer his expectations, and are fully in accordance with those entertained by the Finance and Ways and Means Committees. From recent indications the Internal Revenue receipts for the current year will not be far from one hundred and ninety millions. It is known that the Secretary of the Treasury does not favor the proposition which will be revived next winter, to issue three hundred millions three per cent. bonds, interchangable for currency, not believing that it will have the effect of preventing expansion and contraction af the currency.

A New Opera Thing.

The most beautiful opera "cloak" we have ever seen is one recently brought to this city from Paris.

It is of the same material as the centers of camel's hair shawls, and of a rich dark purple color. The edges are embroidered in gold thread palm leaf patterns about four inches deep, with extra ornamental corners. The shade is somewhat beyond the descriptive powers of our editorial pen. Our fashion editor could do it justice, perhaps. We saw it, unfortunately, in a very private way only. It was thrown over the shoulders of a personal acquaintance. It seems to be a semi-Oriental sort of thing, half cloak and half shawl—one arm put through a slit, and one end of the thing—cloak, shawl, poncho, whatever it is—thrown back over the shoulder. The effect is very graceful, and the contrast of purple folds with gold embroidery is very rich. Very few of these opera things have been imported at Paris—about half a dozen, we believe. None, so far as we know, have reached New York. They rival the camel's hair shawls in one respect—they are very expensive. In another respect they do not rival them. They do not last a lifetime. They may last perhaps ten years—long enough for an opera cloak. It is economical in the end, if worn as faithfully as the shawls are worn.

We will say for the benefit of our young gentlemen readers that, if these "cloaks" come in more general use, it will not be necessary to borrow a dress suit from the Sultan of Turkey or the Pacha of Egypt when they attend young ladies at the opera. We are assured that an ordinary black dress coat furnishes a valuable contrast which any lady will duly appreciate.—N. Y. Mail.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly with five and half feet in the channel, by the Monongahela marks last evening. The weather yesterday was pleasant and favorable for out door business.

The Julia No. 2, from Zanesville, is the only arrival we have to report. She returns again to-day, as usual, at 4 P. M.

There were no departures aside from the regular packets.

Capt. D. S. H. Gilmore, went out on the Arkansas, his object being to see how she will perform. He will go as far as Pomeroy.

The hull for Capt. G. W. Ebbert's new boat has arrived, and it will not be long now until she will be ready for business. Capt. Ebbert proposes to make his first with the the new boat to New Orleans.

The Silver Cloud No. 2, Capt. John B. Conway, is filling up steadily for St. Louis, and will take her departure on Wednesday evening. Passengers and shippers can rely on the Cloud leaving promptly as above announced.

The R. C. Gray, Capt. Isaac Whittaker, is loading for Memphis and New Orleans.

The America arrived at St. Louis on Saturday, and the Lorena left there the same day for Pittsburgh.

The Messenger left Cincinnati for St. Louis on Saturday full of freight and people.

The Armadillo has seventy-five tons New Orleans freight engaged at Cincinnati.

The Tom Farrow and Barges, Capt. Chas. Mathews, are announced to depart for St. Louis on Wednesday.

—When last heard from, the following steamers were above Omaha, viz.: Miner, Benton, Ida Stockdale, Urilda, Nile and North Alabama.

—The following boats are laid up at Sioux City: Deer Lodge, Bertha and Fanny Barker. The North Alabama will also lay up at the same point.

—It is rumored that Capt. George L. Reppert, the accomplished clerk of the steamer St. Charles, is about to enter into co-partnership for life with one of Mother Eve's fair daughters—name and style of firm to be Geo. L. Reppert & Wife.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Saturday: The Messenger ran through snow all Thursday night, and shoveled snow 4 inches deep off her roof yesterday morning. She reshipped 37 people for Nashville on the Havana. The Messenger departs for St. Louis to-day.

—The Vicksburg Times says: "The New Albany Commercial is a little premature in its assertion that Captain McGill has instituted suit against Capt. Leathers for violation of the charter of the Belle Lee. No such suit has been brought, and from present appearances, will not be, as in all probability, Capt. Leathers will be on the Belle Lee next week, and in the Vicksburg and New Orleans trade."

—The Madison Courier has the following in reference to the sinking of the McCullough: From what we can gather it was a clear case of mistaken signals. Some four or five boats meeting at the same time and place, the numerous signals caused a confusion among the pilots, from which they could not extricate themselves in time to avoid the catastrophe. The Tiger lost several barges of coal from her tow, at the same place, and dameged herself slightly. The McCullough will be raised without difficulty, but her freight will be damaged to a considerable extent by water.

STEAMBOATS.

PITTSBURGH AND ST. LOUIS PACKET LINE.—Boats leave every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY, of each week, and oftener if throng of business requires. The line is to be under the direction and control of Captains John L. Rhodes, Wm. Dean, Emmitt McClure and James Rees. The object is to obtain regularity of time in departing, together with a uniform tariff of rates on freight, from Pittsburgh to St. Louis and all intermediate points. The following Captains and their boats have agreed to enter into and compose said line:

Steamer Leonidas.....Capt. Edward Evans.
Steamer Silver Cloud No 2.....Capt. J. B. Conway.
Steamer Kate Putnam.....Capt. Geo. W. Reed.
Steamer Waunita.....Capt. Thos. Shuman.
Steamer Glendale.....Capt. John M. Hare.
Steamer Lorena.....Capt. Samuel Shuman.
Steamer Bellevernon.....Capt. John I. Darrah.
Steamer Maggie Hays.....Capt. B. C. Martin.
Steamer Armenia.....Capt. A. C. McCallum.
Steamer Messenger.....Capt. Jesse Dean.

It is understood that the day of departure shall be strictly obeyed on the part of said boats, and the hour not later than sundown. And that time of arrival at all points or landings between Pittsburgh and St. Louis shall be settled upon as will best serve the patrons of the line, to give dispatch to business and regularity, which we think will be of great advantage to our business men and the general travel on our rivers; besides save much expense to our boats, while loading under the line regulations in three days instead of six or eight, as under the old rule of loading three or four boats at one time. If our object should be properly appreciated, we will endeavor to make the line work to the advantage of all concerned.

Through receipts will be given to all points where connections can be made with other good lines.

We most earnestly solicit the assistance of our business community. Very truly yours,

JOHN L. RHODES,
WILLIAM DEAN,
EMMITT MCCLURE,
JAMES REES,
Managers.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 134⅛.

OF OUR new Judge, Hon. J. M. KIRKPATRICK, the Philadelphia News, (Dem.) says:

He is a gentleman of considerable talent, with a good judicial mind, and will make a good Judge.

THE reported denial, by the Secretary of State, of the accuracy of the statement that England had conceded the American claim to San Juan del Fuca, is itself contradicted upon the express authority of the Department.

A RADICAL German journal, Die Tackel, will be issued, in a few weeks, from the office of the Mauch Chunk Gazette. It will be edited by Captain FRED. SCHLUEMBACK, an able writer, whose efficient services as a speaker also, in the late canvass, were recognized in many parts of the Commonwealth.

MRS. JANE G. SWISSHELM proposes through the columns of the GAZETTE to deal with the "social evil," and a plan for the reformation of the unfortunate outcasts of society. These articles will doubtless attract much attention, as few ladies in the country are better qualified to handle social questions than Mrs. S., who has seen much of the world and has a large stock of ideas peculiarly her own on most questions of deep interest.

THE four great States of the Union gave a total vote as follows: New York, 846,185; Pennsylvania, 655,662; Ohio 519,254; Illinois, 449,436. The first gave 9,454 majority to SEYMOUR, and the other an aggregate majority of 121,238 for GRANT. The increased vote of the same State over 1864 was, in New York, 115,444; in Pennsylvania, 82,455; in Ohio, 48,512, and in Illinois, 101.210.

GRANT'S majority in Pennsylvania will be over 31,000.

THE QUESTION of prohibiting the sale of liquors again divides the local politics of Massachusetts. The prohibitory policy was exchanged, last winter, for a stringent license law, and that, in turn, is about to be repealed, the new Legislature being strongly prohibitory. So few questions of national interest remain for its discussion, that we may expect to see the ensuing year devoted everywhere to the ventilation of a countless number of side-issues, the most of them having purely a local interest.

IT IS understood, at Washington, that the hitch between Messrs. MCCULLOCH and ROLLINS, and the appointment of Supervisors of the Revenue, was practically settled, like a good many other things, by the result of the Presidential election. The statement is that the Secretary "representing the views of the President, has acknowledged the popular verdict, and has permitted the appointment of those who supported GRANT and COLFAX in almost every district." This, cum grano salis, is probably true.

THE COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS at Philadelphia has incurred the displeasure of Secretary MCCULLOCH, who threatens his removal. The facts may be briefly stated. The Secretary desires the subordinate force in that Custom House to be reduced, and so informs the Collector, who assents thereto, as his duty requires. The Secretary then proceeds to designate the individuals to be dismissed, and to this the Collector naturally and rightfully objects. Being responsible for the fidelity of his subordinates, he claims, and ought to have, the entire control of their appointment or removal, and that it is his right, and not the Secretary's, to specify the individuals. One or two similar controversies, under preceding administrations, have been decided in favor of the Collector, and so should this. His removal, for such an "insubordination," can only result in his replacement by the Senate under the Tenure-of-Office Law. It is, therefore, to be hoped that the Secretary will not do an ill-advised thing in the premises.

THE forthcoming Treasury estimates, for the fiscal year 1867-70 to be submitted to Congress at the opening of its session, are to propose a still greater reduction in the public expenditures, the statement being roundly stated at fifty millions, and even now if the Indian war should be speedily terminated. The Secretary is also quoted as authority for the opinion that the ensuing year will realize a very considerable dischange of the public debt. All this simply means that the much abused Republican Congress has so perfected the system of taxation, and has so severely pruned down all needless expenditures that the Treasury gets more money, gets it easier, spends less and cancels more of the old debt, even than we promised to the people. It means that economy and retrenchment with equal and just taxation were not mere electioneering catch-words, but are social realities. It means that we are able to pay the expense of conquering the rebellion, and that we are fairly in the way of doing it. And it means, moreover, that the people expect a faithful adherence to a policy which is thus proven to be sound and profitable.

OUR ACCESS TO THE LAKES.

The statements made by our correspondent "R," in the three articles recently contributed by him to this journal, on the Lake Superior Iron Region, and more especially the facts and estimates contained in the third of the series, printed on Saturday last, should address themselves with especial cogency to the leading productive interests of our county. We have nowhere met with a more concise and conclusive showing than "R" has made upon the points following:

1st. The intrinsic value of the mineral deposits on our Lake Superior coast.

2nd. That natural and reasonable law of the trade, by which the raw material seeks the fuel for its conversion, and not the contrary.

3rd. The speedy exhaustion of the fuel resources of that iron region itself.

4th. The constantly increasing competition of smelting works, which, year by year, find other locations not liable to that expense of land transportation, for either ore or fuel, which more and more embarrasses the enterprise of manufacturers here.

5th. The entirely practicable method by which the iron-masters of this region of Pennsylvania may overcome that disadvantage almost wholly, by the obvious provision of suitable facilities for a cheap and capacious water carriage, in unbroken bulk, from the ore-lands on the Lakes directly to their mills.

The iron-master who flatters himself that Pittsburgh will ever maintain her former pre-eminence in that department of industry, will find it profitable to consider the facts presented by our well-informed correspondent. When he shall comprehend the full bearing of these facts upon the general trade, he will find them stubbornly destructive of all his anticipations, and may then see that his present confidence is a delusion. The local trade of this section may always be a large one, but the pre-eminence of Pittsburgh interests, in that respect, in the markets of the great West, must, in the nature of things, soon become a glory altogether of the past.

Desirable ores are discovered, month after month, in other deposits less remote than those of Lake Superior, while the journals as often chronicle the development of fuels as valuable as our own, and so much nearer to the metal as practically to threaten us with a competition that ere long will distance us completely, The ore of Lake Superior doubtless has qualities which commend it as especially valuable for our smelters and refiners; but even that ore will no longer find a profitable conversion in Pittsburgh, after the more convenient fuels from the margins of the coal-field, both in this State and Ohio, have fairly entered upon the competition. So, it may be that the coke of this region has qualities peculiarly fitting it for the supply of the smelters of Marquette, in that not far distant day when their own fuels become exhausted. But, in the union of the two minerals, on the banks of either the River or the Lake, is to be met that serious obstacle—the expense of transportation.

The question is simply this. Can the smelter of Marquette buy our coke, or can the Pittsburgh iron-master bring hither the Superior ore upon any basis of fair competition with the rapidly increasing trade at more favorable points, at a cost of transportation three times greater than his rivals pay from other points? How long can we hold the business at that disadvantage? In other words, how long do we expect to be able to retain a traffic which, we may already see, is certain to be lost under the inevitable operation of the plainest rules of trade?

If the iron-interests of Pittsburgh can secure the transportation of the requisite raw material, either way, at one third the present cost, and by an expenditure quite moderately within their ability, it needs no argument from us to enforce that policy upon a class who are understood to be quite capable of discerning and protecting their solid interests at all times. We shall waste no space in argument, to prove to them what they ought to do. We need only to supply to them the needful data, and from the established facts they will not only take the instruction but will act upon it.

We know that an expenditure of two millions of dollars will give Pittsburgh a water-way to the Lake, to admit the passage of vessels of at least three hundred and fifty tons burthen. That means that the cargo taken on at the Marquette dock can come to the wharf at Pittsburgh without breaking bulk, and vice versa. And that means, moreover, an instantaneous extinction of the only formidable and really threatening element in the competition of the trade, restoring to the mills and forges of the Ohio Valley, at one stroke, all their old pre-eminence.

Two millions are a large sum of money. Yet that is a mere bagatelle to the opulent interests especially concerned in this region. Our iron masters could pay the whole, and lose every dollar as a investment of stock, and yet be richly remunerated in the magnificent trade which would rest once more within the compass of their energetic industry. Two millions of dollars! Any new railway scheme having a moderate degree of merit, can command that sum in a few months. And is there any less promise, or less sure, of golden returns from the proposed enlargement of the Erie Canal? We accept Mr. ROBERTS' estimate for the cost of that work. As an engineer of experience and reputation, he merits, and has, the confidence of our community. The facts touching the trade in Lake Superior minerals are also given upon unimpeached authority, The intimate connection between the minerals and our own mills need not be dwelt upon. The dangers which threaten our material interests as a manufacturing centre are equally palpable. Is not the situation one worthy of general and practical consideration?

THE NEW INDIAN POLICY.

For the first time in the history of Indian affairs, our Government has attained, within the past few months, a clearly defined and absolutely practicable policy toward the red men. Guided by all past experience, and after the most careful consideration of the question in all its bearings, both present and future, the Commission to which this difficult question had been referred, and which was composed of citizens the most familiar with the Indian character as well as the natural resources of all portions of the vast territory now haunted by these roving tribes, have adopted the proposition to set apart a considerable portion of this area, as a permanent reservation for their homes, and to cause the settlement of the Indians thereupon with the least possible delay. Wherever persuasion fails to accomplish their quiet and submissive removal, it has been definitely decided that the requisite compulsion shall be made use of. With these tribes—not a few of them having dwindled to mere skeletons of bands, but some of them still remaining formidable in numbers and in the possession of improved arms—once removed from their demoralizing and destructive contact with the whites, and isolated by wholesome restraint, on both sides, from both the perils, and the temptations of the present association, they are to be the exclusive occupants of a territory so large and varied as to support a purely nomadic existence, and which shall also be capable of meeting those new conditions which must attend their gradual transformation into an agricultural and domesticated people.

Whatever justice there may be in the criticisms which have heretofore unsparingly condemned our Indian policy, measuring its equity entirely by the results which have attended it, that policy has steadily exhibited one most creditable feature. Whenever a reservation of lands has been made for the benefit of these tribes, it has invariably been respected by this government, and as far as possible protected against white invasion. The advance of civilization, in the progress of our settlements, has frequently made fresh removals necessary, but in all cases the absolute rights of the red men have been otherwise respected, and such changes have been accomplished by treaties satisfactory to both parties. When, therefore, the reservation policy, heretofore confined to isolated tribes, has thus been extended to embrace the entire race on all the Western Plains, and is adopted upon a scale in all particulars commensurate to their numbers, to the variety of their tribal organizations, and the peculiar requirements growing out of their tribal antipathies and hereditary feuds, we are justified in expecting that, as the settled policy of the Nation, it will be adhered to with a national good faith, and that the designated reservations will be carefully and permanently guarded from encroachment.

To this policy, the Indians themselves have not yet given their assent. Nor was it needful that they should. The duty was ours to make the wisest provisions for a race which is not qualified to protect or preserve itself, and to enforce those provisions, regardless of their natural opposition. And this is to-day the position of the Indian question. A considerable number of the most powerful tribes oppose our policy, and are in arms to resist it. The merits of the policy itself and the efforts of our military arm for its establishment have been very clearly stated by Gen. SHERMAN, in his report already printed, It appears that a general Indian war is already commenced, and that the tribes will not surrender without a sharp struggle. It is also evident that, unlike all preceding Indian wars, this, instead of being suspended by the approach of winter, is to be vigorously pushed without regard to the season. Gen. SHERMAN is evidently of the opinion—and it is sustained by experience—that the winter and not the summer is the season when hostilities will be most effective against that enemy. A winter campaign is attendod with greater hardships for our own troops, but to the Indians a defeat at this season is almost equivalent to destruction. It costs more to give them an effective blow, but that blow is more certain to be crushing. Generals SHERMAN, SHERIDAN, HARNEY, TERRY, AUGUR, HAZEN and others, with a strong force of regulars and some volunteers from Missouri and Kansas, are pursuing the hostile bands, protecting the railways, guarding the exposed frontiers, and preparing for the speedy submission and care of the tribes as they shall come in and surrender themselves. There may be expected some hard fighting, but the ultimate result is certain to be that of the complete subjection of the surviving tribes, and the final establishment, during GRANT'S administration, of the new Indian policy.

A COLORED MAN in North Carolina writes to the Tribune that the Convention of negroes, proposed to be held at Washington on the 3d of March, is not called to set forth grievances. Its object is—

To return our thanks to the Most High, and his instruments here on earth, who have labored for the results obtained by Grant's election, and to consult with our Northern colored men, disfranchised, and agree if possible upon some concerted plan for future operations, the object being to make them citizens.

The writer adds: "We have no grievances. All is well. Grant is President."

Destruction of the Ohio Lunatic Asylum.

The conflagration at the Asylum resulted in the destruction of both wings and the main building of the Institution, with the exception of the portion used for a kitchen, carpenter shop and engine room. The hospital, greenhouse and stables, which were separate buildings, were not harmed. The origin of the fire has not been definitely ascertained, though it is generally believed that it was owing to a defect in the heating apparatus. The officers of the institution are unable to give any definite information on the subject. It is probable that nothing positive will ever be known regarding it.

The fire was confined for some time to the northern portion of the east wing, and it is a matter of surprise to many that it should have been allowed to spread, when such a result could have been prevented if proper measures had been taken. The building had no roof, and it was under it that the flames made their way from the east to the west wings. Had the roof been cut at the proper time, and a stream of water applied to the devouring element, by far the greater portion of the building might have been saved. It seems also that, in addition to the other misfortunes, two of the steam fire engines were not in good condition, and did very little service.

The loss to the State is about $500,000. The walls of the Asylum appear to be in good condition, and may possibly not be injured so much but that they may be used for rebuilding.

The Journal gives this graphic description of the rescuing of the worst class of the inmates:

The flames had cut off communication between the extreme end of the east wing and the main building, so that the only hope of rescuing the worst class of female inmates from their perilous position was by breaking through the heavily-barred windows, or cutting a passage way through the tin-plated roof. Ladders were thrown against the Asylum's walls, the strong iron grating covering the windows was torn away, and the shrieking lunatics were tenderly taken in the arms of strong, brave men, and borne down the long ladders to the ground. Some were led along the steep roof of the Observatory building, and thence handed carefully down to a place of safety; others were dragged through holes cut in the ceilings of their cells, and passing out upon the high roof of the main building, moved through the storm-like spectres walking in the air or upon the sea. Many of these unfortunate women were almost entirely nude. Some had nothing on but their night clothing, some had sheets or blankets wrapped about their heads; others with their hair streaming in the wind, looked like furies let loose. The feet of almost all were without covering, and not a few were without covering upon the upper portion of their bodies.

The Journal mentions Messrs. Louis Siebert, Thomas Kelly, Mr. Hawkins and one of the Asylum attendants as conspicuous for their daring deeds is rescuing patients from the fire. The Statesman mentions Mr. Siebert, Mr. S. S. Rickly and Mr. Albert S. Ford, and details the following thrilling exploit:

In his last visit to the fatal east wing, Mr. Siebert narrowly escaped death. Against remonstrance he dashed through a sea of fire, followed by a noble attendant carrying the keys or the hall, until they together reached a room, the door of which was already found to be a sheet of flame. Dashing through, Mr. Siebert directed the light of a small lamp, which he held in his right hand, to the only bed in the room, but finding it unoccupied, sprung out in the hall, telling the attendant that the room was not occupied by a patient. On being assured that the room was occupied, Mr. Siebert again entered, and casting the light from his lamp around the room, discovered a female crouching in a corner, ready to spring at his throat. In her mad rush at him, he fortunately caught her right hand in his left, and throwing away the lamp, trusted in the fierce ensuing grapple in the darkness to secure her other hand. He succeeded, and although a powerful man, found it necessary to exert all his strength in bringing the inmate to her knees, in which position he dragged her through fire and suffocating smoke to a place of safety. The great exertion of the wrestle, together with the long exposure to the suffocating smoke and gas of the room, overcame Mr. Siebert, and he sank fainting to the floor. Drs. Peck and Smith immediately administered restoratives, and in a short time he was again on his feet, and away toward the west wing. In a room in the front building he found a sleeping man. Extreme difficulty was experienced in inducing him to get up and follow to a place of safety, but by little good tact it was accomplished.

When it became evident that the whole of the beautiful building must be burned, the fire slowly, yet surely, traveling along the front building in close proximity to the west wing, where most of the male patients had their rooms, the necessity of the removal of all the insane became a subject of anxiety.

The females, inhabiting the east wing, and the eastern portion of the south front, were cared for, by being conveyed to the Deaf and Dumb Asylum in omnibuses and close carriages of every description that could be got together. Some of them, forced from the building, were wildly violent, but under the firm care and kind treatment of the attendants, who for months had kept watch and ward over them, the patients were removed without much difficulty. One old lady, we noticed, seated in a carriage, was wild with excitement. She seemed determined to get out, and struggled hard for that purpose. She was anxious to go to her room, now, alas, a sheet of burning flame. At this moment we noticed a young lady of some twenty years, who rushed up to the carriage, and as she clasped her arm around the old lady's neck, in an endearing tone said: "Aunty, I have come to take care of you." In an instant the old lady was subdued, and, as she buried her face on the bosom of her friend, for such undoubtedly she was, she murmured, "Yes, yes, my child," and was led to a different carriage, where familiar faces greeted her, with the confiding faith of a child with its mother. The female patients were all taken to the new asylum for the deaf and dumb.

The removal of the male patients was a work of more difficultiy. Every description of vehicle that could be pressed into the service was put in requisition. About fifty of the number—patients of the wildest insanity, with a suicidal tendency—were removed to the hospital of the institution, where they were cared for as well, if not better, than could reasonably have been expected under the distressing circumstances. Over two hundred and fifty, male and female, were cared for at the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, which was promptly thrown open for their reception. The deaf mutes were transferred to other portions of the building and forced to remain content with one-half the accommodations previously enjoyed, yet not a sign of murmur escaped them. Each one seemed to feel as if upon his or her exertions to make comfortable the strange guests thus suddenly forced upon them, depended the reputation of the Asylum for hospitality.

It is much praise to say that, wild as was the condition of the patients, when thus transferred—raving as many of them were, and all terribly excited—by three o'clock in the morning of yesterday, and before the Lunatic Asylum was entirely in flames, all the patients thus transferred to the Asylum for Mutes were either asleep or quiet.

One poor creature, a girl of about eighteen whose arms were confined because of her, mischievious propensities, on being brought out, called piteously for her mother, and died with the prayer on her lips that she might be allowed to lay her head upon her mother's breast; "it pains me so," she said.

The specter inmate was the theme of universal conversation among the masses within the area in rear of the main entrance, during the progress of the fire, but a careful search by humane men soon transformed the reported spirit into a poor frightened lady, who, escaping death from the crumbling halls, had evaded her watchers and with wonderful agility had climbed to the roof of the conservatory in the rear, where, in white night dress she nimbly walked the ledge singing the while, in apparent ignorance of the terrible doings of the Fire King around her. She was removed in safety.

The Trustees of the Southern Asylum, at Dayton, will accommodate as many as possible of the patients who were burned out of the Central Asylum. A number of rooms will be fitted up for the temporary use of about one hundred of these unfortunates. An addition, the Northern Asylum, at Newburgh receives one hundred and twenty of these unfortunate beings.

The Journal places the actual loss to the State at $200,000; the Statesman at $500,000, and all agree that the loss would not have occurred had Columbus had water works. After the Asylum cisterns were exhausted the nearest city cistern was "fully three thousand feet away."

The Governor will recommend in his message to the General Assembly, which meets on Monday next, the immediate reconstruction of the building on the fire-proof plan.

The President Elect.

General Grant and Mrs. Grant were called upon by a large number of ladies and gentlemen, at their parlors in the Continental Hotel, yesterday morning and afternoon. About noon the President elect, visited the venerable patriot, Horace Binney, at his residence, 241 South Fourth street. Mr. Binney is now in his eighty-eighth year, and wonderfully observant of public affairs. His interest in General Grant's election was marked, and his influence, always potential, was felt over a large circle. Wholly removed from mere partisan aspirations, he had no interest in the last great struggle beyond love of his imperilled country.—Philadelphia Press.

THE dispatch from New York that Gen. Grant desired, before accepting an invitation to Evart's dinner, to know whether Randall, M'Culloch and Welles were to be there, as he did not wish to meet either of those gentlemen, went through each one of them as if the current which came over the wires continued its course till it struck the persons named with a miniature lighting bolt. The aversion of General Grant to social intercourse with these men arises from their certifying to Mr. Johnson that General Grant had lied in his statement about turning the War Office to Mr. Stanton. The feeling is most bitter against Messrs. Randall, M'Culloch and Welles who confined themselves to furnishing the written aversions Mr. Johnson's wanted. But Randall went further, and among the swarm of lobby men and low politicians with whom he is accustomed to drink at the public bars, he did not hesitate to apply the term liar to General Grant. The General knows of this, and his feeling of aversion will be shared by all who know the men.

THE Richmond Dispatch, with cruelty, remarks that the speaking of Mr. Seymour was "a freak of despair, and had no more influence upon the result than does the beating of a tom-tom over the bed of a dying Indian."

ON the first of January the LaCrosse Democrat will cease to exist, and in its place "Pomeroy's Democrat," issued at New York, will appear.

NATURE'S GREAT ALLY.

It took the world nearly two thousand years to discover and remedy one of the most fatal errors that mankind has ever believed in. From the time of Galen, to a comparatively very recent date, it was supposed that, in order to cure a disease, it was necessary to weaken the already enfeebled patient by artificial means. Bleeding, blistering, violent purgation and salivation were the main reliance of the faculty, not more than fifty years ago. Restoratives were only administered as supplementary agents, after the lancet, cantharides, jalap and calomel had done their depleting work. Modern science has effected a salutary reform in medical treatment. In place of the nauseous doses once administered in cases of indigestion, billiousness, constipation, sick headache, nervousness, intermittent fever, &c., HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are now given with the utmost confidence and the happiest results. The reason why this admirable botanical preparation has superseded the debilitating poisons of the old materia medica are these: it combines the properties of a wholesome tonic, with those of a gentle cathartic, an anti-billious agent, a nervine, and a blood depurent. Thus, while it keeps the bowels free, regulates the liver, and purifies the current of life. It sustains the physical strength of the invalid, and by this means the expulsion of disease and the restoration of constitutional vigor go on together.

At this season when intermittent and remittent fevers, with other compaints arising from a damp, mephitic atmosphere, are prevalent, a course of the BITTERS is the best means of protecting the system from an attack.

LET ANY ONE TRY A FEW BOTTLES OF DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE AND IT WILL ESTABLISH ITS MERITS BEYOND CONTROVERSY.

We feel, in whatever we say in its behalf, that we are conferring a benefit upon thousands of people who would be benefitted by its use. Take any large audience or gathering of people, pay attention for a moment, and see if one out of every ten is not afflicted with a cough. There is no cough without some difficulty of the throat or lungs—trifling it may be at the outset, but gradually growing more and more fearful, until the constitution, at last, is made to succumb to its ravages; and what would have yielded in the beginning to a few doses of medicine has become a fearful lesion, involving life itself. No one can be too careful at this season of the year, to the first premonitors of pulmonary disease, and when a remedy like the one we have named, is within the means of all, the salutary advice which we have given should not be disregarded, Sold at the great Medicine Depot, 140 Wood street.

DR. KEYSER'S RESIDENT OFFICE for LUNG EXAMINATIONS AND THE TREATMENT OF OBSTINATE CHRONIC DISEASES, 130 PENN STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA. Office hours from 9 A. M. UNTIL 4 P. M.

November 11, 1868.

A CORRESPONDENT of the New York Times, writing from Galena on the night of the election, reports the following remarks of General Grant, which possess both political and historical value:

"The morning that Lee surrendered he rode out between the lines and I went out and met him, and we had a couple of hours' talk. Lee said he hoped I would offer as magnanimous terms to the other Confederate armies as his had received. I told him he should, if he wished to serve his friends, go to other armies in person and prevail upon them to surrender. He said he would wish to see Mr. Davis first, I didn't encourage a conference with Mr. Davis, so that suggestion ended. But what I wanted to call your attention to was this: Lee thought the Southern people would be perfectly satisfied to give up all their property, and all they expected of the Government was to be secured in life and a right to go back and unmolested to try to live industriously and peaceably in this Government. But as for ever having any voice again in the Government, or exercising political rights, why they neither thought of nor expected any such thing."

THE Commissioner of Indian Affairs has nearly completed his report. He estimates our Indian population, exclusive of Alaska, at three hundred thousand. They are rapidly decreasing in number, while some are yielding to the advances of civilization. To make any real progress with them can only be a work of time, patiently and hopefully prosecuted; of liberality on the part of the Government, and faithful and prompt fulfillment of all its obligations and promises. He says the interest in the red man by benevolent and Christian organizations is being abandoned. Schools and religious instructions are not equal to the demand.

PROPOSAL.

The Commissioners appointed by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the purpose of locating and building a

HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.

for the Northern District of Pennsylvania, having selected a site on the Susquehanna river in the vicinity of Danville, Montour county, Pennsylvania, will receive proposals until at noon, for the erection and construction of a Hospital with all its appurtenances upon said site in accordance with all the plans and specifications of John McArthur, Junior, Architect, adopted by them and approved by the Governor.

The plans and specifications can be examined at the office of the Architect, No. 205 SOUTH SIXTH STREET, Philadelphia, every day, (except Sunday,) between the hours of 9 A. M. and 5 P. M., until the time above mentioned for receiving bids.

Parties making Proposals, must furnish sureties, whose responsibility to the amount of $10,000 shall be certified to before a Justice of the Peace, that they will, in case their bill is accepted enter into a contract, within ten days from the time of opening the bids, with satisfactory security to the amount of $25,000 that the same will be fulfilled in a complete and satisfactory manner.

Proposals to be considered must be in accordance with the printed form adopted by the Commissioners, which can be obtained from either of the Commissioners, the Superintendent of the Hospital or at the office of the Architect.

All bidders desiring information of the site are referred to Dr. S. S. Schultz, Superintendent of the Hospital, at Danville.

Proposals must be marked as such and sent to Isaac X. Grier, Esq., Danville, Pennsylvania, in whose office the bids will be opened in presence of such bidders as may be present on the evening of Tuesday, November 24, 1868.

The Commissioners reserve the right at their discretion to reject any or all bids not deemed to the interest of the Commonwealth or otherwise satisfactory to them.

JOSEPH A. REED, TRAILL GREEN, JOHN CURWEN, } Commissioners.

EXCELLENT SECURITY.

THE FIRST MORTGAGE

THIRTY YEAR, SIX PER CENT

GOLD BONDS

OF THE

Central Pacific Railroad Co.,

These Bonds are the duly authorized and accredited obligations of one of the most responsible Corporations of the American Continent, and are secured by an absolute first lien upon the valuable grants, franchises, railroad equipment, business, etc., of the best portion of the extending eastwardly from the navigable waters of the Pacific Coast to the lines now rapidly building from the Eastern States.

They bear Six per cent. interest per annum in gold, AND BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ARE EXPRESSLY MADE "PAYABLE IN UNITED STATES GOLD COIN."

The semi-annual Coupons are payable, July 1st and January 1st in New York City.

The purchaser is charged the accrued interest from the date of the last paid Coupon, at the CURRENCY RATE ONLY.

This issue of Bonds constitutes one of the LARGEST AND MOST POPULAR CORPORATE LOANS of the country, and therefore will be constantly dealt in.

The greater portion of the loan is now in the hands of steady investors; and it is probable that before many months, when the Road is completed and the Loan closed, THE BONDS WILL BE EAGERLY SOUGHT FOR AT THE HIGHEST RATES.

They are issued ONLY AS THE WORK PROGRESSES, and to the same extent only as the U. S. Subsidy Bonds granted by the Government to the Pacific Railroad Companies.

Nearly FIVE HUNDRED MILES of the road are now built, and the grading is well advanced on two hundred and fifty miles additional.

The THROUGH LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT will be completed by the middle of next year, when the Overland travel will be very large.

The local business alone, upon the completed portion, is so heavy, and so advantageous, that the gross earnings average MORE THAN A QUARTER OF A MILLION IN GOLD PER MONTH, of which 35 per cent. only is required for operating expenses.

The net profit upon the Company's business on the completed portion, is about double the amount of annual interest liabilities to be assumed thereupon, and will yield a SURPLUS OF NEARLY A MILLION IN GOLD after expenses and interest are paid—even if the through connection were not made.

The best lands, the richest mines, together with the largest settlement and nearest markets, lie along this portion of the Pacific Railroad, and the FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF BUSINESS thereon will be proportionably great.

From these considerations it is submitted that the secured by a First Mortgage upon so prodnctive a property are among the most promising and reliable securities now offered. No better Bonds can be made.

A portion of the remainer of this Loan is now offered to investors.

At 103 Per Cent. and Accrued Interest, in Currency,

The Bonds are of $1,000 each.

☞ The Company reserve the right to advance the price at any time; but all orders actually in transitu at the time of any such advance will be filled at present price. At this time they pay more than 8 per cent. upon the investment, and have, from National and State laws, guarantees peculiar to themselves.

We receive all classes of Government Bonds at their full market rates, in exchange for the Central Pacific Railroad Bonds, thus enabling the holders to realize from 5 TO 10 PER CENT. PROFIT, and keep the principal of their investment equally secure,

Orders and inquiries will receive prompt attention. Information, Descriptive Pamphlets, etc., giving a full account of the Organization, Progress, Business and Prospects of the Enterprise furnished on application. Bonds sent by return Express at our cost.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, November 23, 1868.

The gold market opened apparently weak, and dull at 134, under the impression that large sales by the government would depress the price still further, but the stock clique, and especially the Erie manipulators will require an easy money market, and a brisk business in Wall street, especially in gold and bonds. A further rise in bonds would naturally attract attention to the Railroad shares, and might enable the clique to sell out part of their high priced stock. The large short interest uncovered in either gold or stocks will always find purchasers enough to sustain quotations at least for the time being, and any attempt at selling short when the market is up will be met by locking up gold, and making it scarce, thus forcing parties to pay as much for the use of gold as the profit would amount to.

Government bonds are very strong, and everybody is buying at least it appears, so, but the market is in the hands of a few large operators, and as soon as they have disposed of their stock a reaction is sure to set in and a material decline anticipated. The election of a Speaker in the next House of Congress may take up some time, and thus a fine chance is afforded to bull and bear the market before a resolution can be passed making bonds payable in gold. The corner in 1862's is not likely to be successful as was anaicipated, as there is a large supply of those bonds in the market yet held to be exchanged for new issues of 1865.

The stock market is on the rise again, and everything imaginable that could contribute to make the people buy is brought into requisition to bull the market and get rid of stocks.

Money is easier here, but business is very dull.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, November 23, 1868.

CATTLE.

There was again a very fair supply of Cattle, the whole number reaching about 1,150 head, but with a goodly attendance of outside buyers and considerably inquiry for shipment, the market was considerably firmer than last week, and prime to extra cattle sold readily at full quotations. One dealer took 106 head of prime shipping steers for shipment to New York, at an average of 6,50, all around. This, of course, had a tendency to stiffen the market, and as already noted, the better grades ruled higher; there was also considerable inquiry for stock Cattle, the number of country buyers being larger than usual, but, they wanted to buy low, and would not buy at all unless at low prices. We quote at 7 to 7,50 for prime to extra, and 6,25 to 6,50 for medium to good. Stockers range from 3,50 to 5. Hazlewood & Blackstock bought, in different lots, 106 head for Downy, to ship to New York, at an average of 6,50.

Stakely & Bro. 21 head of common Penna. stock at 3 to 5. P. Scheitemantle 15 head common Butler Co. cows and steers, at 3½ to 5. Wicks & Allen 33 head small steers, heifers and cows at 3 to 4¼. C. Metz sold 45 head Washington Co. steers, at 5½ to 6¼. E. Katz 17 head fairish heifers and steers at 4 to 5¼. Peter Hartman 38 head Green Co. stock at 3 to 7 cts. Haas & Kraus 65 head of Ohio, Penna. and Illinois stock at 5 to 7. L. Rothchilds & Co. 27 head mixed Ohio stock at 4 to 7c. Keefer & Zeigler 33 head Chicago steers at 5¼ to 6,90. M. Verner 50 Penna. and Illinois stock at 4 to 6,50. Myers & Needy 70 head Ohio steers at 5 to 7,50. Jas. McAllister sold 17 head of prime fat Indiana steers, for Cullen to Downing, at 7,25; retailed for same 15 head at 6 to 6,75 also 30 head for another party at 5 to 5,50. Hazlewood & Blackstock 51 head for Kerwin at 5 to 6; 19 for Shepard at 5 to 6; 20 for E H Davis at 3,75 to 6. S. Marks & Bro. 36 head Chicago steers at 6,50 to 7,50; 14 Ohio steers at 6,50 to 7,50; 12 head Penna. cattle 5,75. Traurman & Lobman 63 head Illinois and Penna. stock at 4 to 6,75. Smith & Blue 19 head of commonish stock at 4 to 6. N. Carr 45 head Ohio stock at 4,50 to 5,50. J. Davis 36 head rough steers at 3 to 4,50. Hedges & Taylor 108 head of mixed stock at 4,50 to 6. L. & J. Shamberg 34 head, Washington and Green Co. stock at 4 to 7. Holmes, Lafferty & Co. 140 head mixed stock at 3 to 6. Greenwalt & Kalm 70 head at 5 to 7.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

There was an unusually large number of Sheep on sale to-day, and the market, as a consequence, was an exceedingly hard one. The whole number on sale reached about four thousand head, but they were mostly of the scalawag order, there being but comparatively good Sheep on sale. Strictly prime fat mutton Sheep still bring a good price, $4 to $4,50 per head, but there was none of this kind in market to-day. The great proportion of those on sale sold at about $1 to $1,25 per head, and at these figures, the butcher has a handsome profit, as the pelts, alone, are worth from 80 to 90c, each.

J. Walters sold 100 head at 95c to $1,50 per head. John Young 183 head at $1 per head. Taylor to Maggi 80 Lambs at 90c per head. J. Emmell 500 at $1 to $1,30 per head. Adam Eckert 100 at $1 to $3,25 per head. M. Flinner 300 at 75 to $1,25 per head. P. Sheitemantle wholesaled 300 at $1,25. per head. C. Beeler wholesaled 115 at $1,10 per head. Geo. Simmers 117 at ——. Garwin & Bro. 150 at $1 to $2,50. Jas. Duncan 80 at $1. J. R. Pringle 245 at 75 to $1,25. C. Thompson 175 at $1,20 to $2,50. W. Young 210 at $2 to $2,10. Jones 70 at ——. T. Welsh 60, at an average of $1,35 per head. Debald 100 at ——. Seymour 100, at an average of $2 per head. John Eckert 135 at $1,50 to $3,40. Wicks & Allen 600 at $1,25 to $1,50. Stakely & Bro. 47 at $3. McNeese 318 at $1,25 to $3,25. J. F. Neely 52 at 75c to $2,75.

HOGS.

There is a continued fair retail demand for Hogs, and while the market is steady, prices are without quotable change. Quotations may be fairly given at $7 to $9 per cwt., for fair to prime heavy averages.

Myers & Needy retailed 60 head at 8. Nicholas Carr retailed 50 at 7 to 8,75. Emerick & Co. retailed 250 at 7 to 9. C. Boyer retailed 200 head at 8 to 9. L. Rothchilds retailed 110 at 8 to 9.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, November 23, 1868.

There is no abatement in the excitement in the oil market and instead of a break and a sudden decline, as many predicted, the reverse is the case. The volume of business, in both Crude and Refined, was again large to-day, and prices have still futher advanced.

CRUDE.

The sales of Crude were unusually large to-day, aggregating close on to twenty-five thousand bbls, and prices have still further advanced. As we predicted, last week, dealers have now turned their attention more fully to Crude, and the market, to use a common expression, was red-hot today; since last Thursday an advance of from two to two and a half cents has been established, and to meet the pressing exigencies of the trade, some new phrases have been manufactured. The sales reported were as follows:

5000, seller, January to April	12½c
5000, seller, January to July	12½c
2000, buyer, first four months 1869	13c
3000, seller, first six months 1869	12c
1200, immediate	12c
1000, seller, April	12c
500, seller, June	12c
3000, seller, to April first	12c
1000, seller, Dec. and Jan., on cars at Venango City, at $4,75 per bbl.

Also, $400 for the privilege of delivering 2,000 bbls between January and July, seller's option, at 12c. That is to say, the seller pays the buyer $400 for the privilege of delivering or not, as he may feel inclined, that amount of oil at the price named.

REFINED.

The market was again excited and strong to-day, and, compared with Saturday, a still further advanced has been established. The sales reported were as follows:

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 23.—The Dry Goods trade is dull, but prices for all staple Cottons remain steady. Certain classes of Worsted and Woolen goods are in active request for ladies' wear, and such as the Washington green and blue Helen, and and McGregor Plaids, which sell steadily at 80c, these goods are wanted for suits and dresses; Repellants are also in great request at prices ranging from $1,25 to $2; and Chinchilla too is in animated demand for cloakings at full prices. Canton Flannels, blue and mixed twilled, domestics, and low priced scarlet, all wool Flannels, are in active request at prices below 35c.

Philadelphia Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Cattle are very dull but prices without material change; sales of 2,000 head at 8¼a9c for extra Pennsylvania and western steers; 7a8c for fair to good, and 5a6¼c, gross, for common. Sheep in fair demand; sales of 20,000 head at $3a6, gross. Hogs in fair demand; sales of 5,500 head at $11a12 per cwt, net.

Chicago Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Cattle quiet and firm at $3,87½5,25 for common to medium cows and steers. Hogs active and 15a25c higher at $6,65a7,15 for common to fair; $7,20a7,59 for good to choice.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

PROFITS OF FARMING.

At a recent discussion at the New York Farmers' Club in reference to the cash money profits of farming, it seemed to be generally conceded that the business failed to yield seven per cent. on the capital invested. We were somewhat surprised that none of the debaters thought of giving the farm credit for the three great necessaries of life—house rent, table supplies and fuel. Viewed in this light, farming is the safest and best investment that can be made of capital. Take, for instance, $20,000; let it be judiciously invested in a moderate amount of land, and all the stock and implements necessary to its successful cultivation. The proceeds from such an investment will support a family in a degree of comfort, and even luxury, that would cost six or seven thousand a year here in New York; and where is the safe, honorable mercantile or mechanical pursuits that will yield six thousand a year on a twenty thousand dollar investment? The profits of farming, except in a rare instance, will be found to diminish as we extend our operations beyond what is requisite for the comfortable support of a family, and this may be done as well on a thousand acres of land, and this is a strong argument for the subdivision of the great landed estates of the South,—Turf, Field and Farm.

ROADSIDE IMPROVEMENTS.

Too often, as we have traveled over the country this summer, have we witnessed a fine house, good buildings, and fence-line containing more or less rubbish, evidently the gatherings and pruning of the garden and lawn trees. Sometimes the street or roadway is clear of this; but while the grass is clipped inside the fence, that outside is left to grow long and rank, with more or less coarse weeds, presenting just that appearance to the man's grounds that the finding of a heap of dirt under the lounge would to the housewife, and giving him in our own view no claim to a better name than would be applied to such a housewife.

Our horticultural readers should each and all strive to make the outward appearance of their grounds clean, neat and tasteful, first by keeping away all rubbish from the street, next by frequent mowing and destruction of weeds, and lastly by planting and caring for shade trees and flowering shrubs, giving themselves pleasure, and attracting notice from every passer-by; and again, as an example to those of their neighbors, who not being readers or not having learned to move out of their original tracks, continue to make brush-piles, keep hog-pens, and grow thistles, mullein, etc., in front of their houses.—The Horticulturist.

KEEPING POTATOES.

It is, perhaps, needless for us to caution our readers against leaving their potatoes exposed to light either outdoors or in the cellar. They will, if so exposed, soon turn green, become soggy, and almost unfit for use. They should, if possible, be kept in a dark, cool place, away from all danger of frost in winter. We think potatoes used to keep better in times gone by, in the old dark cellars,, than now, in the modern cellars, with their numerous windows. Some are in the habit of keeping their potatoes in pits in the ground, dug deep enough to be safe from the frost. This may keep them well, but it is a troublesome plan. We have known them to be kept in the very best condition in barrels and covered with sand.

USEFUL RECEIPTS.

Country Pudding.—Put a layer of stale bread crumbs in the bottom of your pudding dish, then a layer of tart apples sliced thin. Sprinkle a little sugar over the apples; add another layer of bread crumbs, and another of apples, until your dish is full. Crumbs should form the top layer; pour a custard (made the same as for pies) over it, and bake one hour; eat with sweetened cream.

Apple Snow.—Put twelve good tart apples in cold water, and set them over the fire; when soft, drain the water, strip the skins off the apples, core them, and lay them in a deep dish. Beat the whites of twelve eggs to a stiff froth; put half a pound of finely powdered white sugar to the apples; beat them to a stiff froth, and add the beaten eggs. Beat the whole to a stiff snow; then turn it into a dessert dish.

Imitation Corn Starch Pudding.—One quart of milk and a little salt; thicken one-third of the milk to a thick, smooth paste, with flour; add the eggs, well beaten, and stir in the remainder of the milk when it boils. To be eaten cold with cream and white sugar. This is a very nice and healthy pudding, and may be moulded if one wishes it. Dip your moulds in cold water before putting the pudding in,as then it will come out very nicely.

Queen of Puddings.—One pint of bread crumbs, one quart of sweet milk, four eggs, a lump of butter the size of a hickory nut. When the pudding is nearly done, spread a layer of any kind of stewed fruit over the top of it, and on the top of that spread the whites of three eggs, beaten to a froth, with three tablespoonfuls of white sugar. Set it in the oven again to stiffen the froth. Eat with cream and sugar.

Good Hams.—After hams have been smoked, take them down and thoroughly rub the flesh part with molasses, then immediately apply ground or powdered pepper by sprinkling on as much as will stick to the molasses, when they must be hung up again to dry. Hams treated in this manner will keep perfectly sweet for two or three years. This must be done before the fly deposits its egg, for after that time nothing will stop their ravages.

Duck Pie.—Bone a full-grown young duck and a fowl; wash them and season with pepper and salt, a little allspice and mace, pounded; put the fowl within the duck, and on the former a calf's tongue pickled red, boiled very tender and peeled; press the whole close; the skin of the legs should be drawn inward, that the body of the fowl may be quite smooth; if approved, the space between the sides of the meat may be filled with a fine forcement. Bake it in a slow oven, either in a dish or raised pie crust, ornamented.

Apple Pudding.—Pare and stew three pints of apples; mash them, and add four eggs, a quarter of a pound of butter, sugar and nutmeg or grated lemon. Bake it on short crust.

Plain Cookies.—Three cups of sugar, one of butter, one of milk, one teaspoon of soda, two of cream tartar, three eggs; flour sufficient to knead soft, Cut in small cakes and bake.

TWO MORE OF BARON BRISSE'S RECIPES. —Potatoes "soufflees," again—Pudding of calves' or chickens' liver.—Some persons have not succeeded in fried potatoes. This is not astonishing. Are they well done in every restaurant? I remind you, however, that they ought to be cut half a quarter of an inch thick, the length of the potato. Fry them until three-fourths done, over a very moderate fire, so as not to cook them too vigorously, and that on taking them out the exterior should not be hardened; drain them; make the grease very hot, return the potatoes into it, stirring continually, until the puffing, which soon appears, shall be complete, take them off, drain, salt and serve quickly.

Pudding of Chicken Liver—Pound or chop fine some livers of poultry; chop or mash up a half pound of suet also, the same quantity of bacon and some mushrooms; mix them with the mashed liver; then stir into this force-meat two sliced onions, fried in butter, six yolks of eggs, half a glass of brandy, salt, pepper and nutmeg, and, lastly, the whites of six eggs previously beaten to a snow. Line the bottom and sides of a sauce-pan with thin slices of ham and let it cook with a very slow fire above and below it, surrounding the saucepan with hot ashes.

The pudding is eaten cold, and to keep its shape must be cooled in the saucepan, which should be of earthenware or enameled iron. Take it out, dip the saucepan a moment into boiling water and turn the contents on a dish.

This liver pudding, always ready, is an excellent stand-by.—Evening Bulletin.

THINGS THAT I HAVE SEEN.

I have seen a farmer build a house so large that the sheriff turned him out of doors.

I have seen a young man sell a good farm, turn merchant, and die in the insane hospital.

I have seen a farmer travel about so much, that there was nothing at home worth looking after.

I have seen a young girl marry a young man of dissolute habits, and repent of it as long as she lived.

I have seen the extravagance and folly of children bring their parents to povery and want, and themselves into disgrace.

I have seen a prudent, industrious wife retrieve the fortunes of a family, when her husband pulled at the other end of the rope.

I have seen a young man who despised the counsel of the wise and advice of the good, end his career in poverty and wretchedness.

I have seen a man depart from the truth, when candor and veracity would have served him a much better purpose.

I have seen a man engage in a lawsuit about a trifling affair that cost him more in the end than would have roofed all the buildings on his farm.

FARMERS as much want to know when those fine cows, the Jerseys, Kerrys, and Alderneys, are to be common enough to be cheap, as do the Jews when they take possession of Jerusalem. The good time hangs back wonderfully.

A PROCESS to open oysters is to enclose them in an air-tight box, when steam is introduced, and the work is done. For one establishment on the Chesapeake Bay, 2,500 bushels are opened and canned per day.

HYBRID ANIMALS such as mules can work longer and harder with the same food and treatment than horses. But the pure bloods are more heroic and sympathetic, and in emergencies more trustworthy.

EVERY FARMER should have a compost heap. Collect every kind of fertilizer, and to prevent any from liberating the gases, keep the whole covered with earth or straw.

STRAWBERRIES should have a thin covering of coarse manure, to be raked off in the Spring. This will prevent Winter-killing, and it more than doubles the crop.

AND now scientific men inform us that if birds gave milk we could raise neither fruit nor grain; but, as it is, they want insects for their young, and we are saved.

IT IS now claimed that large orchards breed insects and diseases, after the manner of large cities, and that the remedy is small farms and small orchards.

Jokes.

The English comic papers have these squibs:

TAKING THE WIND OUT OF A SALE.

Auctioneers will sell early in the ensuing month the following choice collections of objects of art and vertu:

A spanish throne, unique; has been thoroughly cleaned and fumigated since the departure of the late occupant; to be sold cheap.

A rare specimen of the Salique law in Spanish; very chaste.

Pieces of the oath broken on the 3d of December, picked up in Paris; richly gilt.

A Parisian button-hole without the Legion of Honor; extremely scarce.

A railway director's conscience; only specimen known.

CHOPS.

"Isabella,
With the gingham umbrella."

This must be a satire on Marfori; for the ex-Queen does not seem to put him down, though the reign is over.

An archbishopric is vacant. How many humble shepherds are praying the Lord of Misrule to give them strength to brave the perils of the See?

"Gush" is generally a sign of youth. There is no harm in the froth which first comes off a bottle of champagne, but sensible men allow it to escape before trying the wine.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH restored in four weeks. Success guaranteed. DR. RICORD'S ESSENCE OF LIFE restores manly powers, from whatever cause arising; the effects of early pernicious habits, self-abuse, impotency and climate give way at once to this wonderful medicine, if taken regularly according to the directions, (which are very simple, and require no restraint from business or pleasure.) Failure is impossible. Sold in bottles at $3, or four quantities in one for $9. To be had only of the sole appointed agent in America, H. GERITZEN, 205 Second Avenue, New York. je13:164-TTS

PHILOSOPHY OF MARRIAGE, a new Course of Lectures, as delivered at the New York Museum of Anatomy, embracing the subjects: How to live and what to live for; Youth, Maturity and Old Age; Manhood generally reviewed; the cause of indigestion, flatulence and nervous diseases accounted for; Marriage philosophically considered, &c. Pocket volumes containing these lectures will be forwarded to parties unable to attend, on receipt of four stamps, by addressing SECRETARY, New York Museum of Anatomy and Science, 618 Broadway, New York. je13:165-TTS

FOR SALE--REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE.

A FARM OF 30 ACRES, on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, 27 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa. The improvements are a fine two-story brick house, with ten large rooms and hall. A large frame bank barn, with No. 1 stabling, and all other outbuildings in complete order. One of the best of orchards, of all kinds of fruit. The soil is rich new bottom. This property adjoins the village of Buena Vista, and has the advantage of churches, schools, mills, stores, &c., and will be sold at the low price of $15,000. The improvements alone are worth at least all that is asked for the property, to say nothing about the land, which is worth for garden purposes at least $10,000. For full particulars call at my office, or WILLIAM A. BELL, Esq., on the premises.

ALSO, A FARM OF 40 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, about 18 miles from the city. The improvements are a new stone dwelling, with eight rooms; a good barn and other outbuildings. This property is offered at a very low price. Call and secure yourself a good bargain.

ALSO, A FARM OF 120 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 17½ miles from the city, on the Connellsville Railroad, opposite Elrod's Station, within 20 minutes' walk of the Station. The improvements are a frame house containing four rooms and kitchen, with a good cellar underneath; very good barn and other outbuildings. A No. 1 orchard, containing about 200 fruit bearing trees, all in good condition. 90 acres cleared land, the residue in good timber, underlaid with 23 acres of coal.

ALSO, A TWO-STORY BRICK HOUSE adjoining the Borough of Elizabeth, Allegheny county, Pa., containing 4 rooms and kitchen. Lot 60 feet front by 120 back to an alley. A good stable, wash house, bake-oven and other outbuildings. I am authorized to sell it at the low price of $1,800, on good terms.

ALSO, In the Borough of Elizabeth, a good two-story BRICK HOUSE, containing 4 rooms. Lot 120 feet square. Will be sold at the exceedingly low price of $2,500, on easy terms.

ALSO, My Farm, known by the name of "Willow Banks," situated on the Connellsville Railroad, 17 miles from the city, containing 79 ACRES, all in good condition. The improvements are a No. 1 brick house, two stories high, newly painted, containing six rooms, two halls running full length of the house. The house is situated on a beautiful knoll, is surrounded by fruit trees, shrubbery, vines and flowers, with a graded avenue running to the Youghiogheny River. Also, a large frame bank barn, smoke house, wash house, coal house, bake-oven and other outbuildings, and a never-failing well of water. Two large orchards, containing from six to seven hundred fruit trees, nearly all in good bearing condition. This farm abounds in small fruits, viz: Currants, raspberries, gooseberries, and a fine large strawberry patch, which, in connexion with the richness of the soil and nearness to the city, makes it very desirable for gardening purposes. Very convenient to schools, churches, stores and blacksmith shop.

ALSO, A FARM OF 158 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 31 miles from the city of Pittsburgh, on the Connellsville Railroad, at Suter Station. The improvements are a common log house, a good frame barn, with stabling for two horses; a corn crib and wagon shed; good orchard of fruit trees; fencing very good. 120 acres cleared, the residue in heavy timber land. This farm is valuable—first, for its excellent soil; secondly, its timber; and thirdly, it contains more limestone than any other farm in Pennsylvania, all accessible. The lower vein of limestone is 40 feet thick; several other veins ranging from 3½ to 6 ft. in thickness, lie under the whole farm. For particulars enquire of ELI SUTER, Esq., at Suter Station, on at my office.

ALSO, 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard: one hundred and twenty acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered, and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm.

ALSO, A beautifully situated tract of 60 ACRES of valuable land, under good fencing, situated in McCandless township, Allegheny county, Pa., on a township road, 7 measured miles from the Market House, Allegheny City. This tract is well adapted for a garden or dairy farm, being convenient and of easy access to either city, and near enough to the line of the Mahoning Railroad to make it very desirable for country seats, for persons doing business in the city.

ALSO, The best farm in Young township, Indiana county, Pa., 4 miles from Western Penna. R. R. at Livermore Station, containing 300 ACRES—225 acres cleared and under No. 1 fencing, as well as fine farming condition; the balance in good white oak timber. The improvements are 2 two-story frame houses, nearly new, of eight rooms each, unfinished basements and attics; a large bank barn 50 by 80 feet, a two-story spring house and other necessary outbuildings, all in good order; 5 acres of orchard of choice varieties of fruits; 4 feet vein of coal (now open,) underlying the whole tract, and limestone in abundance, with plenty of springs of never-failing water. Taken all together—houses, fencing, cleared land, lying surface, public highway, churches, schools, mills, &c.,—I know of no more inviting and desirable tract of land in Western Pennsylvania.

ALSO, FARM AND MILLS. A small tract of 60 ACRES of very valuable land in Derry township Westmoreland county, Pa.; well fenced and in high state of cultivation, with new frame dwelling, and other outbuildings; a new grist and saw mill complete, with two run of burrs, two bolting cloths, and all the needed fixtures, in good order, and a young orchard of choice fruits; lane is all underlaid with a six foot vein of coal, now opened and worked, at the back of the mill, and limestone in abundance. Call soon and secure a good bargain.

ALSO, FARM OF 160 ACRES, situated immediately upon the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Blairsville Intersection, 54 miles east of the city. The improvements are a two-story stone house of 8 rooms, a No. 1 barn, 45 by 65 feet, the best of stabling and other outbuildings. The land lies well, is well fenced, is in good farming order, and will be sold very cheap if applied for soon.

CHEAP HOMES IN THE WEST.—We are authorized to offer two thousand acres of good land in Missouri at the low price of seventy five cents per acre. Will be divided into forty, eighty, or one hundred and sixty acre tracts to suit the purchaser. Title

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Appropriate.—An up-town saloon has has hung out a shingle on which is inscribed "Grecian Bend." Good place, we suppose, to "get on a bender."

Committed.—Jacob Theil was committed to jail for trial, yesterday, by Justice Arent, for fraud, on oath of Jacob Waider. The parties reside in the First ward, Allegheny.

Rare Chance to Buy Real Estate,—On Our fifth page will be found an advertisement of an elegant residence for sale. This property can be bought very low. For particulars, see advertisement.

Money Lost.—A gentleman of the city in going to Birmingham on Saturday afternoon, lost fifty dollars from his vest pocket. The finder will learn the name of the owner by application at this office.

Alarm of Fire.—The alarm of fire this morning at two o'clock was occasioned by the burning of a quantity of kindling wood in the cellar of the St. Nicholas Hotel, corner of Fourth and Grant street. It is supposed the fire was ignited by some evil disposed person. The matter will be fully investigated.

Breach of the Peace.—Margaret Benner made information yesterday, before Alderman Mullen, against Henry Rice for breach of the peace. The parties reside in the Fifth ward, and Margaret alleges that Henry called her hard names and otherwise acted disorderly. Henry was arrested and held for a hearing.

Lilly vs. Jennie.—Lilly Wade made information, before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, against Jennie Forbes for larceny. Lilly alleges that Jennie appropriated a quantity of underclothing, valued at $10. Lilly resides at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Pride street, and Jennie boards with Mrs. St. Clair, on Harrison street. A hearing was had in the case, resulting in the conmittal of Jennie to answer the charge at Court.

Selling Liquor Without License.—Margaret Powers made information before Alderman Mullen yesterday, against Patrick Connolly and Thomas Connor for selling liquor without a license. The accused are proprietors of saloons in the village of Fairview, located about nine miles from Allegheny, on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad. Connor was arrested and held for a hearing to-morrow. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Connolly.

Snow Balling.—Robert Gibbons, a sportive youth, was indulging in a game of snow ball on Saturday, when one of the missiles thrown by him happened to hit John Shea behind the ear, whereat John became angry, and made information before Alderman Taylor against Robert for assault and battery. Mr. Shea alleges that Robert threw several balls at him, the last hitting the mark. The affair took place near the corner of Webster street and Seventh avenue. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Robert.

The Old Story.—A young lady, who moved in the higher walks of life, and who had "loved not wisely but too well," appeared before Alderman Donaldson on Saturday and preferred the usual charge against the destroyer of her peace. She alleges that her ruin was accomplished under the most solemn promise of marriage, which promise he had, under different pretexts, failed to fulfil, and it was only when concealment of her shame became impossible, that she made known her condition to her parents, and a suit for seduction commenced. The gay deceiver was arrested and held to bail for Court in the sum of seven thousand dollars.

Informal Conference.—President J. Edgar Thompson and a number of officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad, were in conference at the Union Depot Hotel last evening, with the committee appointed by the City Councils in regard to the removal of the railroad track on Liberty street. The petitions of citizens which were presented to Councils were considered, but as the meeting was altogether informal in its character, no definite action was taken. The railroad officials also had before them the matter in relation to the building of a new depot for the accommodation of local travel over the road, but the subject was laid over until another meeting.

Nut Factory Destroyed by Fire.—About half past two o'clock this morning the alarm of fire was sounded from box No. 73, in the Fifteenth ward. On repairing to the location indicated, it was found that the Nut Factory of Mr. Gaskell, situated on Boundary street, near the river, was on fire. The engines were promptly on the ground, and did all in their power to stay the ravages of the devouring element, but without avail. The entire building, with its valuable contents, was destroyed. The late hour at which the fire occurred precludes our giving further particulars, nor can we approximate the loss or state whether there was any insurance.

George Alfred Townsend.

"The Pennsylvania Dutch" is the subject for the lecture at the Academy of Music to-night, by George Alfred Townsend, one of the most brilliant and graphic writers and pleasant speakers in the Union. The subject is treated in a half historical, half humerous, manner, and cannot fail to be both instructive and humerous. To-night there will be no reserved seats, and those who desire to secure good positions should go early.

False Pretence.

Annie Hall made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against H. W. Hall, for false pretence. Annie alleges that H. W. owed her a bill for washing, which he succeeded in running by representing that he was employed on the towboat "Lioness," and had money due him from the owners of the boat, which, upon inqulry, she has discovered to be entirely false, the owners of the boat denying all knowledge of any such an individual. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the defendant. The parties are colored.

Accident on the Pan Handle Railroad.

Last evening between five and six o'clock, as the coal train drawn by engine No. 4, on the Pan Handle Railroad, was coming towards the city, about four miles distant, one of the cars jumped the track, which caused the whole train to be thrown off. The coal train was followed by the "mixed train" and the "fast line" both of which, however, were fortunately signalled in time to prevent a collision. Up to latest accounts last evening, the track had not been cleared, and the trains were all in consequence delayed, which caused many of the passengers to walk to the city. Beyond the damage done to the rolling stock no damage resulted from the accident.

Organization of a Mission Sunday School.

On Sunday afternoon a Mission Sunday School was organized in the First Ward School House, Allegheny, by the young men connected with the First Cumberland Presbyterian (Sixth avenue) Church of this city, Rev. Squires pastor. At the first session one hundred scholars were in attendance, and the worthy Christian enterprise gives promise of becoming a perfect success in the carrying out of its object. The following officers have been chosen: Superintendent, Robert Carr; Secretary, Samuel Mulligan; Treasurer, J. J. Skiles; Librarian, J. McKee. The sessions of the school will be held each Sunday afternoon, commencing at three o'clock and continuing an hour and a half.

THE FREEDMEN.

Interesting Meeting at the African Methodist Episcopal Church—Remarks by J. L. Langston, Gen. O. O. Howard and Others.

As a class the colored people of this city and neighborhood are as thrifty, intelligent, well doing and respectable as those found in any other section of the country. They number in their ranks scholars of deep learning and refinement, professional men of talent and ability, large real estate owners and men of acute business knowledge and habits. Many of the wives and daughters of our colored citizens, too, are as refined in their conduct and manners, as polished and brilliant in conversation, and as thoroughly acquainted with literature and the fine arts as those who may figure in higher walks of life. In view of these facts it was not surprising that so large and interesting an audience assembled last night at the commodious African M. E. Church, on Wylie street, to listen to the addresses of the eminent gentlemen announced to speak in behalf of the Freedmen of the land. Every seat was occupied, and nearly all of the representative colored people of the city were present as deeply interested participants. There were present also a large number of our leading white citizens, whose sympathies have been awakened in the cause of the race that is merging from darkness and oppression into light and the full enjoyment of liberty. The meeting was one of the most interesting we have ever attended. and was such as to inspire renewed confidence in the liberal character of our people, whose prejudice against color is rapidly passing into the forgotten past, never again to be called forth and nourished by thrice accursed slavery. Gen. Howard, the soldier and philanthropist, was overjoyed with the meeting. Seldom had he seen so many intelligent colored folks assembled under one roof, with so large a proportion of their educated and refined white neighbors, all having next and nearest their hearts the same noble object, the elevation of the Freedmen to his proper level. He felt that his labors in that direction were not altogether unappreciated throughout the land, and read a brighter day for the colored people of America in the auspicious gathering before him.

The meeting was called to order by Rev. W. A. Hunter, who stated that the object in view was a Christian one, and it was proper that it should be opened with religious exercises. He then read the hymn commencing—

"Before Jehovah's Awful Throne
Ye nations bow with sacred joy."

which was sang in a most admirable manner by the choir, with instrumental accompaniment, and was followed with prayer by Rev. W. A. Hunter. The choir then sang a beautiful voluntary, after which Rev. Mr. Hunter introduced to the meeting the eminent colored orator and lawyer. The high character and reputation of this gentleman, who arose out of slavery, higher, higher and higher in the walks of life, law and literature, had preceded him, but few present were prepared to find in him so finished an orator, such a clear thinker and argumentative speaker. Possessing a fine appearance, a rich, full and commanding voice, a natural grace and finish, he made a marked impression on his hearers before he had well entered upon his subject. That he is no vain demagogue, having personal glory at heart, but is awfully in earnest in doing battle in the cause of the colored people of America, was made apparent in every sentence he uttered. He scorned to flatter the black man into the belief that he was the peer of his white neighbor, unless, indeed, the bitter ordeal of ACHIEVEMENT was passed through and the record made in his favor. The Almighty standing at the sepulchre of a people said, "Come forth, sons and daughters, come forth!" And three and one-half millions of people came forth at the bidding, and throwing away SLAVERY, assumed LIBERTY. They were to commence new life in earnest, and were to meet the expectation of friends who expected good things of them, and disappoint their enemies, who predicted evil to follow their deliverance—evil to themselves. In slavery, perhaps, it was right to avoid work, but liberty means to life a struggle, work, not rest either to the individual or to the people. Liberty is a serious thing, a veritable fact. It is the grand opportunity for struggle, to do, to make ourself or to make a people. The Lord, in His Providence, says to each of us, "Support thyself." If we do so, we will prove true to our manhood and realize the expectations of our friends. The question will be asked, How shall we make real these expectations? We must have self-reliance. A man makes himself great just in proportion to the earnestness of his efforts and his self-reliance in prosecuting a mission. When, in 1776, the colonies declared themselves a free and independent nation, they did not rely for help on august France or any other nation, but proceeded to develop their own power, and to-day through that self-reliance stands the greatest and most powerful nation on the face of the globe. Self-reliance, as an essential to prosperity and success, must be learned by all men, white or colored.

J. L. LANGSTON, ESQ.,

Life taken in earnest, is to acquire property for ourselves, secure an education, establish and maintain character. All of these things the colored man must gain for himself. Before coming out of slavery he was a thing owned by the slaveholder, and so treated. But he is his own master to-day, and should strive to make himself. To do this he must acquire property which has two values. It bring us every temporal thing we need; it carries moral power with it, making its possessor well thought of in the community. A man who can acquire property must have some good qualities of character—thrift, industry, economy and intelligence. It is a truism, to some extent, that our opinion of a man changes in proportion to the amount of weath he accumulates. Hence, the friends of the blackman are expecting him to the best of his ability and opportunity to amass property. They have parental care over him, and what a man expects his own son to do in life, they expect him to do. All men love money, because by it they purchase esteem, and erect a platform on which to stand. The colored people want money as a lever to lift themselves up to the higher planes in life.

Education is wanted, is needed. There is more eduction than that acquired from books; to the colored man it means the cultivation of every power which pertains to elevated life. It is their business to educate themselves so far as possible without calling for assistance from their friends. It is a parent's luxury to educate their children, and those able to do so should appreciate it as such. It is their duty to sacrifice ease, luxury aad even comfort to provide for the proper education of their children. the speaker referred in no flattering terms to the apparent indifference of the colored people of the North to this great subject. Oberlin College with its 700 white students contains but 60 colored ones; Avery College with its accommodations for 500 has but 200 scholars in attendance, and as for the graduates from colleges in operation, they can be counted in ten figures. The freedmen of the South are thirsting for knowledge, while the colored people of the North are slow to appreciate an l patronize their places of learning. Every colored educational institution should be generously supported by those anxious to secure the elevation of their race.

The speaker here took occasion to deal some heavy blows at the extravagances of intemperance, smoking and chewing of tobacco. He held that no man can afford to indulge in these vices. They cost money, character and life. Indeed, Mr. Langston uttered an appeal for temperance no more forcible, eloquent or persuasive than which ever came from the lips of Gough. It was delivered with thrilling effect, and if there was one person present who indulged at the flowing bowl, he must be far on the road to destruction if he heard not in it the commanding word, "Halt."

Character is needed by the black man. Orators may flatter them by calling them good people, but that does not make them such. They must build up character, for when they came out of slavery, as individuals or as people, they had no character. The speaker did not care to inquire after the character now of those three and one-half millions of people set free, neither should any black man. Each has to make himself a character. When that is accomplished, then the grand aggregate gives the character to the race. Thus each will see that he holds in the hollow of his hand the character of those who are united to him by blood and oppression.

Mr. Lanston in a brilliant peroration set forth that on the three great essential things, PROPERTY, EDUCATION and CHARACTER, depends the equality of the black man. By test, achievement, only shall they be measured, and if they fall short of the task and remain in their present position, waiting for other people to lift them up to positions they are unworthy to fill, then they will prove themselves unequal to the white race. To the contrary, should they surmount difficulties, push forward steadily, onward and upward, and from the height of achievement look back to those they have outstripped in the race of earnest, active life, then they are equal and superior to all they have left behind them.

The speaker touched on other subjects, but our allotted space is exhausted by the brief thread of his discourse so imperfectly carried above, that we are compelled to close our report of his remarks. He was frequently interupted with bursts of applause, and retired, carrying with him the admiration of all who had the pleasure of listening to his eloquent address.

At the conclusion of Mr. Langston's remarks, the choir sung in most excellent style, a sacred voluntary, after which Rev. Mr. Hunter introduced

MAJ. GEN. O. O. HOWARD.

Gen. Howard, after a few preliminary remarks, referred to the causes which enlisted him in the interest of the colored man. He said that when quite a small boy, his father had taken into the family a colored boy, who remained in the family until the death of his father, which was the first linking or connection of his sympathies with the negro. Then these sympathies were enlargened and strengthened, after he had grown to manhood, by a visit to the South, after he had graduated at West Point where for the first time he learned and saw the infamous workings of the institution of slavery. In illustration of his experience in the South he related a nnmber of heart-rending incidents, the legitimate results of slavery. He congratulated the colored people on the abolition of slavery, and the freedom of the colored race, and said it now remained for them to carve out their own future. He sincerely believed that God made all his intelligent people of one blood, and that belief should nerve every christian fer the work that was before him, for the cultivation of their minds, and amelioration of the condition of the four millions of people who had but recently been released from a bondage of over two hundred years. The freedmen, he was pleased to say were making progress in education and civilization. School houses were springing up all over the South, and were filled with pupils who were receiving instruction from competent teachers. Only three years have expired since he entered upon the work of educating the Freedmen, yet they have made wonderful progress. He had visited the school at Washington City for colored persons and had found there as high a grade of intellect as could be found in any other schools. He had also visited schools in Massachusetts, where none but whites were admitted, and found them in no way superior to the schools at Washington. Every Christian man in the country sees new requirements of himself and of his church in behalf of the Freedmen. They must be educated, and he wanted to see as complete a schoo system in Virginia, and all the Southern States, as now existed in Pennsylvania or Massachusetts, and Virginia would have just such a system, he said, as soon as the State was reconstructed. She was not wanting in resources to educate her people, both black and white. In a few years there would be a complete common school system throughout the South. The school houses, he said, should be so numerous that every child in the country would have an opportunity of attending school. There should also be normal schools estabiished throughout the South for the proper training of teachers for the public or common schools. Several such schools, he stated, have already been established, and although in operation but a short time, were doing a noble work, and had sent out some most excellent teachers. He referred to the estabiishment of a university at Washington, D. C., and said that it was the intention to create a law school there, of which Mr. Langston would be the Professor. He hoped the colored people of the South as well as in the North would become interested in the matter of education, and educate their children, if they have to labor night and day to do it.

Many persons, he said, found fault with him for making the colored people ambitious. His object in having them ambitious was to lift them out of the degradation and ignorance in which the institution of slavery had placed them.

There is a spirit abroad in the land which is continually crying out that the negro was not the equal of the white man, and that slavery haying been abolished, he, the negro, would have to go to the wall; that while slavery was in existence, the white man had an interest in the negro and protected him, but now no one had any interest in him and he must go to the wall. It was that spirit which was burning down school-houses throughout the South, and if it prevailed the negro would go to the wall. The speaker urged upon the colored people the necessity of educating their children and fitting them for usefulness. They should not be afraid of work, for labor of all kinds was honorable, if it was well performed.

He closed his address with a beautiful and eloquent peroration, in which he highly eulogized the efforts of the freedmen to obtain knowledge.

Rev. Mr. Nesbit, of Altoona, President of the National Equal Rights League, was then introduced, and in a brief address urged upon the people the importance of the work before them and the necessity of faithfully performing it. He stated that a National Convention of the Equal Rights League would be held at Washington, D. C., in January next, and hoped they would see the importance of sending some of their best men as delegates to that Convention.

Rev. Mr. Hunter, in a few remarks, referred to some of Gen. Howard's work in behalf of the freedmen, which the General's modesty had prevented him from relating.

The long meter doxology was then sung by the choir, after which the congregation was dismissed with benediction.

Exciting Rumor.

A rumor was current yesterday that a murder had been committed in the woods near Temperanceville, in the vicinity of the old Washington Turnpike. It was stated that a man had been found in the vicinity named with his throat cut from ear to ear, and that the murderer, a young man about eighteen years of age, was observed to emerge from the woods, mount a horse and start off along the road in a direction from the city at full speed. The most diligent inquiry, however, failed to elicit any positive truth in the rumor, and it is probable that it has no foundation in fact.

Destruction of the Vesta Oil Works—Six Hundred Barrels of Oil Destroyed—Loss $20,000.

Shortly after one o'clock on Sunday afternoon a fire broke out at the Vesta Oil Works, owned by Messrs. Kaylor, Montzheimer & Co., and located at Negley's Run, about seven miles above the city, on the line of the Allegheny Valley Railroad. The fire was first discovered in the treating house of the Works, but the flames spread with great rapidity to the main Works, which together with the treating house was quickly destroyed. The two buildings contained about six hundred barrels of oil, all of which was entirely consumed. There were several bulk boats moored at the landing, in front of the Works, but they were saved by being cut loose and floated out of danger. The largest of them, containing three thousand barrels of oil, was taken in charge by Capt. Benj. W. Morgan, who assisted by two of his employees safely landed and moored it above the bridge on the Sharpsburg side of the river. Mr. Morgan is proprietor of the Nonpariel Works, situated immediately below the works which were burned. The fire raged with great fierceness for several hours, and at one time fears were entertained for the safety of an exceedingly large quantity of oil which were stored in the vicinity, but after burning about three hours, the flames subsided without doing any further damage than that mentioned. The buildings burned were of frame and were of an extensive character. The loss will be about twenty thousand dollars, which is fully covered by insurance in Eastern campanies.

Another Extensive Conflagration—Three Hundred Barrels of Oil Destroyed—Loss Estimated at $5,000.

Yesterday morning about eight o'clock a fire broke out in the "Cosmas" Oil Works, located immediately adjoining the Vesta Works, which had been burned on Sunday afternoon. The fire originated from the bursting of a stop-cock in one of the sills, thus permitting the escape of the heated oil, which, upon being exposed to the air, immediately was ablaze. The stream of burning oil ran down to the condensing tanks, situated in the rear of the stills, and containing some oil in process of distillation, to which the fire quickly communicated and in a short time the tanks were enveloped in flames. The employés of the works did all in their power to save the works, and were partially successful, the condensing tanks and the still from which the oil proceeded being the only portion of the building consumed. The still and tanks together contained about three hundred barrels of oil, all of which was also destroyed. The total loss from the fire is estimated at $5,000, upon which we are informed there is a full insurance. The works were built similar in design to the "Vista," and were owned by Messrs. Brown & Wagner. The damage will be repaired immediately, and in a short time they will be in full running order.

Major General Howard—He is Visited by the Citizens—His Address to the Students of the University.

Major General O. O. Howard remained in our city yesterday as the guest of President Woods, of the Western University. During the day he spent several hours at the University, and while there was visited by many of our most prominent citizens, paying their respects to one so eminently worthy. Gen. Howard delivered a brief but stirring and exceedingly interesting address to the students of the University, in which he urged them to recognize all through their lives the superintending providence of God, This was their duty and privilege. Whatever their profession might be, they can all be great and good men. God had a plan in every man's life, and it is for the highest interest of every man to discover and work out that plan. He spoke of his having fitted for College at an institution near to one which was then under the charge of their worthy President; of his course at College and at West Point, and afterwards of his being instructor at West Point, citing thus from his own history some very interesting incidents illustrative of his subject. General Howard will leave the city to-day, carrying with him, we believe, a very flattering opinion of our people.

Commencing Early.

For some time past Mr. George B. M'Nulty, Weighmaster of the Allegheny Diamond Scales, has noticed the mysterious disappearance of small sums of money from the drawer in the weigh house. He was unable to account for it until last week when his suspicions were aroused by noticing a party of boys loafing around the weigh house in a suspicious manner. Keeping watch upon them, he pretty soon saw one of them enter the weigh house through one of the windows, and in following him, he soon found the young rogue at work on the drawer. Getting under the desk, he ran his hand through the small space between the drawer and the desk, and thus was enabled to bring forth anything inside of it. Mr. McNulty caught the boy just as he was drawing his hand out, and took him to the Mayor's office, where he gave his name as Hatfield. At the time appointed for a hearing the prosecutor was detained by business, and failed to appear, in consequence of which the boy was discharged. Yesterday Mr. McNulty made another information against him before Alderman Mullen, for larceny, upon which a warrant was issued. The total amount taken is about seventy dollars. When arrested the first time the boy confessed to stealing part of the money,

Trouble With Boarders.

John Gordon made informations, yesterday, before Alderman Mullen against two of his boarders, named respectively, James McCreery and John Ninehauser, for fraud. The prosecutor alleges that McCreery owed him seven dollars for boarding, in payment of which he left a trunk filled with clothing. A few days after, he called at the house and, according to the information, asked for the trunk, which was given him with the understanding that he should pawn it and contents, and with the money thus realized settle the bill. Mr. Gordon states that the trunk has been gone long enough now, and the bill remains unsettled, hence the suit, upon which a warrant was issued.

In the case of Ninehauser, the amount is fifteen dollars. He, it is alleged, simply took away his baggage from the house, after running the bill, without making any promises, and is now preparing to leave the State. He was arrested and held for a hearing to-morrow afternoon. The prosecutor keeps a boarding house in the Third ward, Allegheny.

Allegheny Burglaries.

The tobacco store of Mr. Bush, 24½ Federal street, Allegheny, was entered at an early hour yesterday morning and robbed of three dollars in money and several valuable meerschaum pipes. The burglars, who are supposed to be boys, effected an entrance through a window in the rear. The store was robbed some months since, and it was only about a week ago that the perpetrators of that robbery were sentenced.

Between three and four o'clock some thief paid his respects to the residence of Mr. John B. Sanders, on Boyle street, Third ward, but the chap failed to get anything for his trouble. The thief first entered the cellar by removing the window and from thence proceeded to the upper part of the house. In doing so, however, he aroused Mr. Sanders, who attempted to capture him, but the fellow succeeded in making his escape. He was accompanied by a little girl who, it is supposed, aided him in effecting an entrance to the house.

MORTGAGES.

Same day ten mortgages were filed of record.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—A large and fashionable audience assembled at the Opera House ast night to see Chanfrau in "Joe." This piece was written expressly for Chanfrau, and is, in our estimation, superior to "Sam." The piece will be repeated to-night.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.—The old Theatre was filled to its utmost capacity last night to witness the grand re-opening. The stock company is a most excellent one, and the entertainment was fully up to the expectation of the audience. Miss Kate Fisher appeared in Mazeppa, and will reappear in the same piece to-night.

VARIETIES.—The entertainment at the Varieties last night was as usual a most excellent one, and highly satisfactory to the audience. Several new attractions are announced for the coming week.

MUSEUM.—The attractions at the Museum are still increasing, and it is now one of the most popular places of amusement in the city. New curiosities are added every day, and it is the favorite resort for ladies and children. Open day and night.

Answer to Correspondents.

We are constantly being asked by correspondents why it is that Mr. Fleming, at No. 139 Wood street, can afford to sell goods at much cheaper prices than any other house in the city in the same line of business. We trust this answer will serve one and all and at the same time satisfactorily show how he is enabled to do so. In the first place, we account for the fact in his system of large purchases at a time. Having had large and extended experience in the fur and hat and cap business, he is enabled to know where and what season of the year certain goods in his line of trade may be bought cheapest. Putting his information into practical use he buys at the proper places and just at the proper time. In the next place, from his constantly increasing trade, he has adopted the motto, "quick sales and small profits"—which he finds, as well as do his customers, a very good one—and is necessarily a heavy purchaser at all seasons of the year, securing great advantages in price and selection. If these two potent reasons are not full enough, let the reader call at Mr. Fleming's and receive a more explicit explanation and learn the truth of what we have just stated. In the meanwhile, all persons desiring to purchase anything in the hat, cap and fur line should not fail to call and examine the immense stock at No. 139 Wood street before purchasing elsewhere.

The Lungs.

Dr. Robert Hunter, of New York, formerly editor of the "Specialist and Journal of Diseases of the Chest," &c., has arrived in Pittsburgh, and will receive patients at the Merchants' Hotel to-day (Monday) and two days following.

Dr. H. was the introducer of the Inhalation treatment of Pulmonary complaints into the United States, and inventor of the Inhaling Instrument and Catarrh Syringe in general use, and has recently introduced "Hunter's New Patent Metalic Inhaler," specially designed—1st. To enable patients who wish to test the efficacy of the vapor treatment to do so at small expense and without going through a regular course. 2d. For use in families for the radical and speedy cure of recent colds, catarrh, &c. And 3d. For Physicians in their office practice. Price $10, with full directions.

Dr. H. will be happy to see any of his former patients who may call upon him, as well as all now under his treatment.

Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Progress.

Columbus sailed to the Amerian coast in a four hundred ton ship, and first landed upon the island of St. Domingo. Last week a vessel from St. Domingo unloaded in New York over four hundred tons of St. Croix Rum for P. H. Drake & Co., of that city. This is but a few weeks supply of this article, which these gentlemen use in the manufacture of the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS. We are informed by an exchange that Messrs. Drake & Co. have not advertised a dollar for a year, but that the sales of this article continue at the former enormous figure. In 1864 the receipts of the PLANTATION BITTERS were equal to those of the New York & New Haven Railroad.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. TH.S.T.F.

A Gettysburg Sketch.

At a recent re-union of the survivors of the Old Third Division, First Corps, (Reynold's,) it was proposed to have a large painting representing the action of the Division at Gettysburg, July 1st, 1863. A sketch for this painting was prepared by Col. Bachelder, and will be on exhibition this (Tuesday) eve ing at the Union Depot Hotel in Pittsburgh.

The object being to see whether this sketch is satisfactory to the members of the Division and their friends, they are invited to call and examine it. General Rowley, Colonel Glenn, Major Slagle, Captain Dalgliesh, and other well known officers and men residing in or near Pittsburgh, who were members of this Division, will assist Colonel M'Farland, also a member of the Division, to explain the sketch.

Neglected Coughs and Colds.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "Common Cold," in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon preys upon the Lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Cough Lozenges, afford instant relief.

Freedmen, as well as all others, should be educated up to the fact that at no place else in the city can better bargains and larger selection of trunks, valises, carpet bags, portfolios, etc., be obtained than at Joseph Liebler's premium trunk factory, No. 104 Wood street.

Fun.—It is fun to see the patrons of the Premium Trunk Factory rushing for bargains, as there is a full line of new goods just received, embracing all that is desirable in trunks of all descriptions, valises, hand satchels, carpet bags, &c.

Fire.—The alarm of fire yesterday wat occasioned by the great rush on Wood street to the Premium Trunk Factory of Joseph Liebler, No 104 Wood street. Everybody buys there.

The place to get White Lime, Calcined Plaster, Hydraulic Cement, is at Ecker & Caskey's, 167 First street.
